

THE NEWTON GRAPHIC.

VOL. L.—NO. 43

NEWTON, MASS., FRIDAY, JULY 7, 1922.

TERMS, $3.00 A YEAR

SAVES TWO PERSONS

Guy C. Holbrook, Jr., of 143 Walnut street, Newtonville, Mass., a lad the Newton High School, showed remarkable bravery Tuesday, July 4th, Drakes Island, Me., when a call for help from a gentleman from Arlington, Mass., drew his attention to his sister Ruth, caught in the undertow beyond her depths and struggling against a strong current. Hastily rowing off his clothing, and clad in a union suit, he swam out and caught her about the waist, and with an arm, fought his way back to shore; then returned to aid the man, who was nearly exhausted and unable to help himself, caught him about the neck and held him while a life line was brought out by a West Newton man, and the two sustaining him, succeeded in bringing him safely to shore, where a large crowd of lookers-on applauded their efforts.

BRAE BURN CLUB

The Brae-Burn Country Club held its postponed fireworks display on the 4th links of the club last evening. The evening's festivities began with dinner at the club attended by more than 200 persons. A band concert and dancing were also included in the entertainment.

FIELD DAY

The postponed field day of Needham Council, K. of C., will take place tomorrow afternoon and evening, at the Newton Upper Falls Playground. During the afternoon there will be a show, sports and a ball game, followed by a band concert, with dancing in the evening.

NEWTON LAD DROWNED

John Douglas, the 10-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Samuel T. Douglas of 91 Avalon road, Waban, was drowned yesterday afternoon while bathing at Seitate. The surf was high and it is believed the boy was knocked down by a big wave. There was no one on the beach near him at the time of the drowning, which is thought to have occurred shortly after 3 o'clock.

Miss Alfreda Morse, a summer resident, was walking along the beach about 3.15 o'clock and saw the body in the water some distance from the shore. The police and others brought it to the shore. Dr. H. F. Cleverly worked over the body for some time with a pulmotor without success.

The little fellow was visiting the home of W. B. Stevenson. Besides his parents, he leaves two brothers and one sister.

CITY RAIL

The building boom in this city still continues, according to figures furnished by Buildings Commissioner W. R. Forbush. In June, 150 permits were issued for buildings valued at $736,100, of which 40 were for single houses, valued at $448,900. These figures make a total of 607 permits for the year, with an estimated value of $3,333,399.

D. A. R.

The Lucy Jackson Chapter House, D. A. R., corner of Concord and Washington streets, Newton Lower Falls, will be open to the public on Wednesday afternoon, July 12th, from 4 to 6 o'clock.

An interesting historic collection will be shown. Tea will be served.

MEMORIAL DEDICATED

Handsome Flag Pole and Bronze Tablets Unveiled at Newton Centre on July 4th

Notwithstanding the dubious weather on Tuesday, the Newton Centre Improvement Association was fortunate enough to be able to dedicate the Soldiers Memorial which it has had erected on Centre Green in the form of a fine flag pole with handsome bronze tablets at its base bearing the names of thirty of the youth of that village who gave their lives in the Great War.

The program included a band concert followed by a short parade in which the band, a detail from Newton Post of the American Legion, the Boy Scout troops and the Girl Scouts of Newton Centre and a battery from the National Guard. All but the battery took place in the roped-off arena, in which was a speakers' platform decorated with the National colors.

Dr. George L. West presided and Rev. Dr. Edward T. Sullivan of Trinity Church made the opening prayer. Dr. West then presented the memorial to the city, and while he was speaking Dr. E. A. Andrews, president of the Association, unveiled the tablets.

Dr. West spoke as follows: We are met here today, to pay homage and to do honor to those who have died that we might enjoy the fruits of their sacrifice. We have been deeply moved by the tragic taking-away of these devoted lives. During the dark days of the world war, we have spoken in tones of love, pity, sympathy. We have poured out the grief of broken hearts. For these young men and young women were our neighbors, our friends, our own kith and kin. They went forth from among us filled with a noble purpose, imbued with a devotion to the ideal that we are all brothers and that the spirit of real brotherhood must prevail through its own truth and strength and that no power or principle of unrighteous might could long endure against such a spirit of democracy. And for that ideal, these men and women made the supreme sacrifice.

We cannot afford to lose the inspiration of such devotion. It should teach us all the universal brotherhood of man and the worth of an ideal. It must still and ever urge us, with careful thought, attentive watchfulness, and wise action, to maintain persistently the same high standards for whose preservation they have given their lives. We should fervently resolve that these lives so tragically surrendered shall not have been given in vain and that we, the living, shall keep alive the memory of their deeds and strive, in the light of their sacrifice, to make the world fairer, braver, and truer.

The names and memories of these dead are engraved on the fleshly tablets of our hearts in characters that only age can ever efface. But age is sure to come, dimming the memory. The dreary, chronic heart-ache will give way to the clouding intellect. We cannot of ourselves keep alive these names and memories but for a short time. It is for us to carry on. We must insure to the growing youth and to the generations yet unborn a lasting token of our appreciation of and our belief in the same ideal for which these lives have been sacrificed.

These tablets, bearing in enduring bronze the names of these heroes and heroines will make lasting proclamation of our keen appreciation of the worth of their sacrifice and our confidence in the ideal to uphold which they gave their lives.

It is fitting and proper that the care of this memorial should be placed in the hands of the people whose generosity has given it substantial form; that its care should rest in the keeping of those whom we shall of our own free will designate as civic officials.

Therefore, by virtue of the authority placed in me, I now present this memorial, sacred with the names of our revered dead, tender in its associations, eloquent in our feelings of appreciation, invaluable as an abiding lesson to all who shall see and read, a worthy inspiration to patriotic duty, this memorial, I present to our fair city of Newton and into your hands, Your Honor, I place the pleasant duty of maintaining it as the property of the city, with the hope that it may receive in the future the same loving care and attention that it has received in its inception and preparation.

May the unselfish devotion and sacrifice here exemplified lead us all to strive now and in time to come to make a fairer city, a braver, truer and more generous nation, a better world.

Mayor Childs accepted the memorial on behalf of the city as an evidence of the service and sacrifice of the Newton Centre youths, who died in the service of their country and he declared that the story of their sacrifice, patriotism and service will live so long as the American flag flies. If these youths could speak he believed they would say that this nation will not be saved by war, it will be saved by God alone. The Mayor enlarged on the thought of our two-fold duty, our duty to our country and our duty to God, stating his belief that after all our service to country must take second place to our service to God.

PLAYGROUNDS OPENED

All Playgrounds are now under constant supervision, morning, afternoon and evening. A man and woman director will be in charge on every playground looking after the little ones. We urge the parents to send the children to the playgrounds and prevent the terrible accidents now taking place during street play. Plays and games are to be taught as in former years and in addition folk dancing and special occupation play for boys and girls. There will be a woman supervisor of occupation play and a man for manual training who will be in charge of the occupation play for the boys. They will be shown how to make simple articles. Boys and girls will be organized into playground teams.

There will be teams of baseball, football and volley balls and quits. All the sand boxes have been filled with new sand, and the blocks are on the platforms. Special attention will be given to the folk dancing. These dances will be conducted with the help of a victrola.

During the first week the instructor will organize the children. The boys who want to make a team should show up early in the season. The playgrounds supervised this year are the Burr Playground in Newton between Waverley avenue and Park streets. Boyd playground half in Newton and half in Watertown, but belonging to the City of Newton. The Stearns playground next to the Stearns School and Allison near by. The Allison bathhouse will be opened from now on. Cabot Playground and Horace Mann in Newtonville. These two playgrounds are co-operative. The Eden Avenue Playground and West Newton Playground will be supervised and in addition the yard of the Neighborhood House will be in use. In Auburndale the new playground along Pulsifer Cove will be in use and men and women instructors will be there all the time. The bathhouse will be opened the coming week. The Newton Lower Falls Playground is situated on Grove street. The Waban Playground is being opened as usual. The lower area has recently been re-

APPOINTED JUDGE

At the meeting of the Executive Council on Wednesday, Governor Cox named Hon. Alonzo Rogers Weed of Park street, Newton, to be a justice of the Superior Court in place of Judge Hall, recently promoted to be chief justice of the court.

Mr. Weed was born in Bangor, Me., January 22, 1867, but has lived nearly all his life in Newton. He was educated in the Newton schools and was graduated from Harvard University in 1887, and from Boston University Law School in 1890, being admitted to the bar in the same year. He practiced in Boston and was a member of the firm of Brewer, Weed and Weed. From 1894 to 1902 he was an instructor in equity in the Boston University Law School, and in equity pleading from 1902 to 1913. He was acting dean in 1911. Mr. Weed was a member of the Newton Board of Aldermen from 1899 to 1903, being president his last two years. He was mayor of Newton in 1904 and 1905. He was appointed a member of the Massachusetts Board of Gas and Electric Light Commissioners in 1906, being continued in that office until 1919, and serving as chairman from 1914 to 1919. When the present Massachusetts Department of Public Utilities was created in 1919, which combined the old Board of Gas and Electric Light Commissioners and the Public Service Commission, Mr. Weed was named to the new board by Governor Coolidge, and has served continuously to date. He is a trustee of Boston University, a trustee of the Newton Savings Bank, a trustee of Newton Hospital, vice-president and director of the Newton Co-operative Bank, and is a trustee under the will of Edwin Ginn.

Mr. Weed is married and has two children, a daughter, Anne, who was recently married to Mr. Lawrence E. Richardson, and a son, A. R. Weed, Jr.

MCCLOSKEY-TIERNEY

The wedding of Miss Esther Marie Tierney and Mr. James J. McCloskey, both of Newton, took place last week Tuesday morning, at the Church of Our Lady, the ceremony being performed by the pastor, Rev. Lawrence Slattery.

Marie Tierney, sister of the bride, was flower girl. The bridesmaid was Miss Marie Crowley of Newton, a cousin of the groom. June Bunker of Dorchester was best man.

Miss Tierney was given in marriage by her brother, John P. Tierney. Ushers were Francis T. Tierney, brother of the bride, and John Irving Boudreau, brother-in-law of the bride.

The bride was gown in white crepe de chine with duchess lace, and carried a shower bouquet of lilies of the valley. The bridesmaid wore sunset taffeta with hat to match, and carried pink roses.

The music was under the direction of Prof. Joseph Glade, organist. The church choir sang, with solos by Mrs. Wales, Mrs. Foley and Joseph Antonelli.

Mr. and Mrs. McCloskey left for New York, Atlantic City and Washington immediately after the reception, and on their return will reside at Swampscott for the summer season and in the fall will return to Newton, where they have purchased a home on Cabot street.

ST. JAMES THEATRE—The management of the St. James Theatre has a faculty of picking entertainment to suit the season. This coming week Walter Perkins is to revive another good old comedy, "The Man from Mexico," an ideal hot weather play; a play that requires very little study but produces abundance of laughter. It is just a case of sit back and receive it on a platter.

Next week at the St. James, Montague Love will appear in the drama, "Bought and Paid For."

CERTIFIED MILK

I am very much pleased to announce that I am going to have the exclusive agency of the CERTIFIED Milk, produced on the Golden Guernsey Dairy, situated on Lincoln Street, Lincoln.

The owner of this ideal Dairy, Mr. Clifford Stearns, was formerly manager of the Bonnybrook Farm in Wayland, and during his five years' service at Bonnybrook, built up a product that has taken first prize wherever H. P. Hood & Sons have exhibited the same. He is going to carry on this good work at the Golden Guernsey Dairy, where the conditions are even better than at Bonnybrook. Get your order in quickly as we expect to have hard work to fill the demand.

Price will be 25 cents per quart.

Telephone or mail your order to

TWO ALARMS

Two alarms for the same fire were rung in late Sunday night for a blaze in Evans' Garage on Brook street. Box 15 was first sounded, and later 115 was rung in. The fire was caused by the explosion of a travelling gasoline tank, from which William J. McDonald was filling the tank of an Edison truck which was standing just inside the front door of the garage. McDonald was burned about the body and legs and his clothing set on fire. Lawrence Slack, who was working in the garage, rushed to his assistance and rolled him on the grass across the street until the flames were extinguished.

The machine was completely destroyed and the wood work about the door and office was considerably charred.

APPEAL FOR MATERIALS FOR PLAYGROUND USE
 The Supervisor for Occupation Play wishes to make an appeal to the people of Newton for materials for occupation play as in former years.
 We can use cardboard, wool, pieces of cloth, and other pieces left from the dressmaker's visit. We can also use a straw matting which was left when the new matting was laid on the floor and other materials useful to every child.
 The Playground Department's telephone is West Newton 103, and we will be glad to send the truck to anybody who will donate material.

ACCOUNTING

"The study of accounting may be recommended to two classes of young men: those who hope to be business executives and those who intend to be practicing accountants," says a professor of accounting in a large university. He continues: "For the man who hopes to be an executive, accounting has two valuable things to offer. In the first place, it gives him a thorough training in the principles of business. Recently a group of university students of accounting met at a banquet in Chicago and were addressed by the President of the Chicago Association of Commerce. In the course of his remarks the speaker said: 'I care not what phase of business you intend to choose for your life work, the study of accounting will acquaint you with the forms of business organization, the methods of management, and will prove the most valuable element of your training.' The second thing which accounting offers to the prospective executive is the ability to analyze the records of past operations, and thus determine whether his policies have been wise and effective. The accountant's statements contain the information which the executive requires, but much of this information is not apparent without careful study and intelligent analysis.
 Any man who intends to make accounting his profession should prepare for either the State examination for the degree of Certified Public Accountant or the examination of the American Institute of Accountants. Passing the latter examination entitles the candidate to membership in the institute. In thirty-eight of the States the institute examination questions are used by the State examiners, so that it is possible to become a certified public accountant and a member of the institute by passing one examination.
 The American Institute requires all candidates to have a high school education or its equivalent, and most of the States make the same requirement. The examination of the institute covers four broad fields of an accountant's work, namely: Theory and practice of accounting, Auditing, Actuarial science and Commercial law.
 There are several good books on bookkeeping, but no mistake will be made by using "First Year in Bookkeeping and Accounting" (HKB.M16), by MacFarland and Rossheim.
 If you are already a good bookkeeper you may properly begin with a more advanced book, "Accounting, Theory and Practice" (HKB.K43a), volumes I and II, by Roy B. Kester, is suggested. These two volumes are highly scientific and deal with advanced principles. There is a practice set in the first volume which may be worked out, and there are practical problems and questions in the theory of accounts in both volumes.
 Cost accounting is one of the important special fields of accounting work and may be studied after mastering the general principles of accounting. Two texts are recommended. In the first place a practice set should be worked out in which cost accounts and all of the supplementary papers are actually written up. For this purpose the Cost Accounting Budget in connection with Rowe's "Bookkeeping and Accountancy" (HKB.R79), is recommended.
 After the mechanics of cost accounting have been mastered it will be advisable to read a book on advanced principles of cost accounting, such as "Cost Accounting" (TIF.N52), by Nicholson and Rohrbach.
 The study of auditing should be postponed until after the books on advanced principles of accounting have been read. However, auditing may be studied before cost accounting. "Auditing Theory and Practice" (HKB.M78) by R. H. Montgomery, is recommended, and it may be supplemented by "Duties of the Junior Accountant" (HKB.R33), by Reynolds and Thornton.
 Any good high school commercial arithmetic may be studied, but such books are not written primarily from the accountant's standpoint, and do not contain the more advanced subjects, such as depreciation, sinking funds, annuities and other topics given in the examination under the title of Actuarial science. Therefore it will be advisable to study such a book as "Mathematics of Accounting and Finance" (HKB.W17), by Finney and Walton.
 All business men should be familiar with the law of contracts sales, negotiable instruments, etc., which are dealt with in texts on commercial law. The recommendation in this field is "The Elements of Business Law, with Illustrative Examples and Problems" (HKB.H87), by E. W. Hufcutt.—Newton Free Library.

—Mrs. C. G. Francis of Pembroke street has gone to her summer home in New Hampshire.

—Mr. and Mrs. Bertram Urban of Waverley avenue are at Fortunate Rock, Biddeford, Me., for the summer.

—Mrs. J. G. Godding of Centre street returned Saturday from the Federation Conference at Chautauque, N. Y.

—Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Kinsley of Waverley avenue returned Thursday from a three weeks' visit to Maine.

—Charles and Baldwin Pearson of Washington street are at Camp Wildwood, Moosehead Lake for the summer.

—Miss Dorothy Fernald of Elmhurst road is at Camp Winnahke, Malletts Bay, Lake Champlain, for the summer.

—Mrs. Marion E. Sweet and Mr. and Mrs. Charles Jackson of Eldredge street are spending the summer at their cottage at Hyannis.

—Mr. George P. Flood, who is the delegate from Newton Lodge of Elks to the national convention of that order, to be held at Atlantic City next week, leaves tomorrow with Mr. C. S. Ensign and Mr. J. J. Doherty, and will make the trip by automobile.

—A bad automobile accident took place Monday afternoon on Elmwood street, when a Ford car of the Newton Motor Sales Co. and a Ford sedan from the Crawford garage collided near the corner of Baldwin street. Both cars were badly damaged, and Wallace Maloney, the driver of the Ford sedan, was cut about the face.

—The many friends of Mrs. Thomas Weston of 276 Franklin street will be pained to hear of her serious injury. While riding in an automobile with her daughter, Miss Grace Weston, last week, another auto crashed into them head on. Mrs. Weston's collar bone was broken in two places, causing a severe shock to her system. Miss Weston escaped with minor injuries. This accident occurred in Wayland.

LOW FIRE LOSS

The efficiency of fire departments is determined by their extinguishment and prevention of fires.

It is impossible to accurately compare the efficiency of any one fire department with another as fire conditions are just alike in any two cities or towns, and the annual fire loss is different each year in all of them, sometimes greatly so. An occasional unusually large fire swells the annual loss, which for the year in which it occurs gives the fire department a poor fire loss rating, which in other years may have an excellent rating.

The best and most accurate estimate of the efficiency of fire departments for some years has been the annual per capita loss of the fire statistics of the United States, compiled and published by the National Board of Fire Underwriters, which has become the universal standard for the year it is issued.

The Newton fire department has always had a favorable position for low fire losses in the underwriters' annual per capita fire loss ratings. Its general average for several years is one of the best, and is among those cities with the smallest losses.

The National Board of Fire Underwriters recently issued its annual fire loss statistics for 1921 of cities and towns having a population of 20,000 and over, which contains the per capita of 369 of them. Santa Barbara, Calif., with 23,000 inhabitants, stands No. 1 in the list, with $51.99, and Lebanon, Pa., with 27,000 inhabitants, is 369 in list with eleven cents. Newton, with 47,000 inhabitants, is in 399th position with $1.19. Brookline has the lowest per capita loss in New England, 46 cents, which places it in the 358 position.

Concord, N. H., has the largest per capita loss in New England, $12.45, which places it in eleventh position, and Springfield the largest in Massachusetts, $7.81; Gloucester next, $7.23. Waltham is 301 position, with $1.23, and Watertown is 107 position, with $2.31. Kansas City, Mo., heads the largest cities, with $7.93, followed by Milwaukee, $5.49; Boston, $5.01; St. Louis, $4.89; Buffalo, $4.55; New York City, $2.51; Chicago, $3.10; Philadelphia, $3.05; Cleveland, $2.79; Cincinnati, $2.45, and none of them have as good a rating as Newton.

The total per capita loss of the whole country in 1921 was $45,000,000, the largest of any years except 1906, when the San Francisco conflagration, with a loss of $400,000,000, swelled it to $518,611,800. The per capita loss for the whole country last year was $4.41, an increase of 24 cents over the preceding year.

REAL ESTATE NEWS

John T. Burns & Sons report that they have sold for Harry M. Stone-metz his estate located at 359 1/2 Stone street, in the West Newton Hill district. The property consists of a 12-room single dwelling, together with a 2-car garage and 12,000 feet of land, the total valuation of which is $14,000. W. W. Kenney was the purchaser and later extensive alterations will occupy.

John T. Burns & Sons also report that they have sold for W. H. Harris a large tract of land fronting on Commonwealth avenue, Walnut street and Lakeview road, in the Newtonville section. The total property, comprising nine lots, contains 50,000 square feet. It is valued at $15,500. W. M. Herbert Abbott was the purchaser.

Burns & Sons have sold for the estate of Wm. B. Young a lot of land on Commonwealth avenue, Newton Centre, corner of Morton street. The lot contains 12,000 square feet and is valued at $4,000. S. J. Bromley, the purchaser, intends to improve the same by the erection of a high grade brick colonial dwelling in the immediate future.

Burns & Sons have also sold for Thomas Dillon his bungalow, styled modern, 8-room home, located at 29 Brewster road, in the Eliot district of Newton Highlands. With the house, there are 7,000 feet of land and a 2-car garage; the total valuation being $19,500. R. L. Harrison purchases for a home.

PROHIBITION NEWS

PROHIBITION IN THE UNITED STATES

Professor Gaupp, teacher of psychiatry at the University of Tübingen, appears in the Munchener Medizinische Wochenschrift, Munich) to the German people to consider the progress in public health and private prosperity which has already followed prohibition in the United States. An editorial in the same issue endorses his statements, saying that far too little attention has been paid in Germany to "this most important step which a people ever took to promote health and morals." Professor Gaupp concludes his historical sketch of prohibition with the statement that the only way to ever reach the goal is by training the young to a life without alcohol as a matter of course. He adds, as quoted by "The Journal of the American Medical Association," "In Germany, from 18 to 20 thousand millions were spent in 1921 on spirituous beverages; the alcohol morbidity is increasing every month; wines and liquors are being imported freely, and more have to be imported at the ruinous rate of exchange." He cites notices posted by the authorities informing the postoffice and state railroad employees that they are entitled to buy brandy from the state reserves. At the Gumbinnen station the notice adds, "The brandy is of good quality, costing in the storage warehouse 35.45 marks per liter." Professor Gaupp visited America three times before the war, and he appreciates the difficulty in enforcing prohibition at present, but anticipates that when the existing supplies of liquor are exhausted the task will be easier. He comments on the fact that the physicians of the United States "were by no means the leaders in the fight against alcohol—an experience which agrees with that in other countries."

FROM THE STANDPOINT OF A CONDUCTOR

J. Cleve Dean a well known conductor on the Southern Railway, does not approve of the action of the American Federation of Labor in going on record for the repeal of the Volstead Act and in a recent letter to the Chattanooga News, while frankly admitting that there was a time when he used to "turn green in the face" on meeting a prohibitionist, and that he has learned that "it isn't what he likes that does him the most good every time," but frequently what he does without that benefits him the most, he sets forth his personal views on the drink question as follows:

"Some time ago the press carried a headline reading, 'The American Federation of Labor at its convention goes on record for the repeal of the Volstead Act.' Never before have the leaders of this branch of organized labor made such a broad mistake, and I regret to see those big headlines standing before the eyes of the public as a witness against labor.

"If drinking liquor were legal and decent, then the employers of our country would never object to employing the rankest kind of a 'booze head,' and if it were right for a man to soak his hide with booze, the railroads of our land would eliminate rum.

"If it were right for a man to drink liquor, then a boy's mother, instead of sinking down in tears when he comes home 'stewed,' would run to meet him, shouting his praises.

"If it were right for a man to partake of strong drink, then instead of a wife meeting her intoxicated husband with a rolling pin, I am quite sure she'd have a brass band to greet him so as to do him honor. But it isn't right for any man to indulge in strong drink, because it shortens his life, it lowers his morale, it places him on the lowest plane of life, it causes his friends to lose faith in him, it causes him to lose faith in himself; it is Satan's best friend and God's vilest enemy."

Recalls Old Days

"I remember a few years back when payday came around in railroad centres and mining towns, the city would always put on an extra force of policemen to keep order; but now we don't have such trying times.

"I have seen the time when Chattanooga was 'wide open,' and when a passenger crew left town on Saturday evening they had to put on their 'fighting clothes' in order to handle the drunks. I have seen the time when it was nothing unusual to have a dozen drunks in the ladies' car falling and staggering around over women and children. And now we don't have any such conduct, and I hope I'll never live to see such days return.

"I want to say right here that I don't believe the 'big four' brotherhoods will ever make the statement which the American Federation of Labor has just made. It has been their aim all the time to weed out the booze heads from their ranks, and I believe they have made pretty good progress along these lines.

"While the leaders of the A. F. of L. have made this mistake, I don't believe they have truly spoken the sentiment of their members as a whole, and let us hope that moral pressure will be brought to bear against them in a way that will compel them to radically change their attitude toward the Volstead Act."

OUR SACRED DEAD

The following poem was written for the dedication of the Soldiers' Memorial at Newton Centre on July 4th:

We dedicate in loving memory
This fitting tribute as a shrine to-day.
In honor of the men and women
Who gave their lives the cause of right to save.

The call of duty was for them suffice,
And they went forth to freely sacrifice—
To follow where the path of honor led.
Though they have died to us they are not dead!

They paid the price and we will not forget
Unto these valiant souls we owe a debt.
Words are but weak but we will gather here
And think of them and drop a silent tear.

This is a shrine of tenderness and tears,
We turn the precious pages of the years
And read a record of heroic strife
That marked the birth throes of our Nation's life.

The men of Concord and of Bunker
Hill
With zeal and purpose that they must fulfill.

Used as a training ground this hal-
lowed place
And then went forth to liberate the race.

The very air with freedom is astir!
The author of our hymn "America"
For many years lived just across the way.

Our glorious flag! upon this day of days
We pledge anew our loyalty and praise,
To keep its folds upon the breeze unfurled.

'Til Liberty and Justice rule the

PLAYGROUND NEWS

Children of All Ages Receive Instruction in Athletics Under Competent Instructors

A large number of children and adults have been reported on all the playgrounds, morning, afternoon and evening. A total attendance during the day on all the playgrounds varies from 100 to 300. Owing to the hot weather all swimming places are crowded and in many instances the directors of the different playgrounds take a number of swimming groups and see that they get safely back to their home grounds.

Schedules for midget, junior and intermediate baseball for boys and junior and senior girls have been arranged, the coming week you will see the start in the interplayground baseball schedule. Similar schedules track and field work have been arranged in football and quoits.

In addition weekly competitions in track and field work have been arranged. Each playground will have four classes of boys. Each playground will conduct one track or field competition suitable for the four grades of boys and for two grades of girls. The printed schedule for all these events are being posted on all the playgrounds.

Mr. Arthur S. Roberts well-known athlete has put in his second season on the Newton Playground, being in charge of the track and field work, and games on the North Side. Mr. Rufus H. Bond faculty coach of the Winchester Schools, who has been director on the Newton Centre Playground for a number of years is in charge of the South Side. Mr. John Donahue a former Newton Playground Director for several years now a physical director at the Y. M. C. A. at Willimantic, Conn., in charge of the West Side. A. T. Leary is Assistant Superintendent and especially charged with the supervision in general of all wholesome activities on our playgrounds. Mr. W. O. Holman, who is a teacher in Manual Training in the Newton Schools is in charge of constructive hand work for the boys, and Miss Forbush, who is a supervisor of Manual Training in the State of New York, is in charge of the constructive play for the children and girls. Miss Ruth Allen, who was in charge of the folk dancing on the playgrounds for a number of years, resigned owing to her recent marriage. In her place Miss G. C. Kerrivan has been engaged to carry on this important work for the children.

We urge parents to visit the playgrounds and to get acquainted with the directors. We know that the children are well taken care of when they are on the playgrounds. There is never a time but somebody is there to look out for their interest. The instructors will try and draw their children in some wholesome form of outdoor activities. They do not only gain through healthy and well regulated sports, but they will gain greatly in co-operative and social strength by learning to play with others. The aim of the playground is to make our children independent of external restriction and guidance. There is no end to the good work which can be done to the playground if our parents would co-operate with our directors to secure the best results. Our directors will welcome at any time inquiries from parents.

The Tennis Courts are in exceptionally fine condition this year and a number of tournaments are going on there from morning until night.

It has become a great problem how to keep our courts in working order with the comparatively small force of men who can take care of them. They are such valuable form of playground activities that the playground department is at the present time planning construction of four new tennis courts. At Upper Falls a force of eight men have been at work for several weeks, giving a final grading to land which was once a swamp. This swamp has practically been eliminated by gradually filling it up with ashes during the winter. When complete it will be a splendid baseball field for the Upper Falls Playground. Our Bathhouse at Upper Falls was too out of the way and the situation during the winter months was the cause of considerable damage, but the house has already been put in good condition by the Building Department.

BOSTON BOYS AT "Y"

A group of forty boys from different sections of Boston were entertained at the local "Y" on Wednesday, July 12. Arriving at 10 o'clock they played games on the athletic field, and enjoyed a refreshing shower and swim. At 12:30 lunch was served by a group of ladies composed of Miss Emma Page, Mrs. A. C. Bang, Mrs. Delano, Mrs. Daniel White, Mrs. H. W. Bascom, Miss Abbie and Miss Elizabeth Spence. Music and singing followed lunch, then came games in the gymnasium and another swim.

Assistant Boys' Director R. C. Smith, 'Bob' Torrens and Assistant Physical Director Raymond Van Buskirk directed the boys in their games and music. Groups will be entertained each Wednesday during July and August.

Mr. Smith has arranged two clubs for the younger boys who frequent the building during the summer. One is a Bible Club, and the other is a Debating Club.

Besides a swim every day at 3 o'clock, the summer program for the boys includes educational and recreational trips. The next trip, which will be Saturday, will be to Franklin Park.

Frank A. Day Camp

A new tent accommodating seven more boys has been added to the camp equipment. This will be available on Friday, August 14. All the places have already been spoken for.

Saturday and Sunday are visiting days to the camp. Among the visitors last week were Mr. and Mrs. Lewis E. Moore, Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Stafford, Mr. and Mrs. G. C. Colburn, Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Cunningham, Mr. and Mrs. Nathan Heard, Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Lodge, Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Crosby, Dr. H. C. Spencer, C. D. Mills, and Daniel Lamson.

—Mr. Samuel Bumpus, one of the state "Y" secretaries, spoke at the morning service in the outdoor chapel. A new tent house, fitted up with benches and tools, is being built for the use of the boys, especially on rainy days.

Gordon White, Richard Hunt, G. and C. G. Kirkpatrick, and H. Hoyt, P. Slade and M. Becker left today to join the happy campers.

Mr. Noble, the camp director, now has a family of 90 to look after. One mother writes, "both boys are most enthusiastic and happy." "Everything is fine up here" is the verdict.

Newton 'Y' Base Ball

Last Saturday afternoon the Y. M. C. A. Baseball Team lost to Melrose Town Team 8-3 at Melrose. While the team was away a game between the married and single men of the Boston & Albany offices, South Station, was played the single men winning by a close score.

Mr. S. A. Carling, physical director at the local "Y", and his family are spending the month of July at Jamestown, N. Y.

JUDGE WEED TAKES OFFICE

Judge Alonzo R. Weed, appointed July 5 by Gov. Cox, was inducted into office in the presence of members of his family and a number of lawyers at Suffolk County Courthouse, Boston, Wednesday afternoon. He was escorted to the bench by Judges John F. Brown, Wait, Sisk and Flynn. After the ceremonial he received the congratulations of the judges and many attorneys.

CITY HALL NOTES

Miss Ebba Carlson of the city comptroller's office has gone on her annual vacation.

Miss Mabel Dow of the assessors office is spending her annual vacation in Vermont.

Spanish Licorice Industry.

The manufacture of licorice extract and paste is an important Spanish industry. This is a comparatively new industry, as formerly the root was exported manufactured. Over 6,000,000 pounds of the root were exported in 1918 and more than 600,000 pounds of extract and paste.—Brooklyn Eagle.

ODD FELLOWS' FIELD DAY

The Odd Fellows of Newtonville, Newton Highlands, Needham, Wellesley, Natick and Framingham will hold their annual picnic and Field Day at Waushakum Grove, Framingham, on Saturday, July 15, from 12 M. to 8 P. M.

There will be sports, dancing, Punch & Judy for the children, and an entertainer.

A silver cup to be given to the Lodge winning the tug-of-war, which will have to be won three years running, to become property of Lodge.

A special car will leave Haggerty's Corner at 12:15 P. M. via Newton Highlands, Newtonville and West Newton.

If not pleasant on the 15th the picnic will be held the following week, July 22.

NORUMBEGA PARK

Five acts of vaudeville, booked from the Keith Circuit and of the sort calculated to furnish excellent entertainment for hot weather will be presented in the theatre at Norumbega Park for the first three days of next week, while on Thursday the bill will be changed and five more vaudeville numbers will be shown. In addition, the latest motion pictures and news weekly reels will be shown and there will be special concerts on Sunday.

Twilight baseball has been added to the list of attractions at the Auburn-dale pleasure resort and each Friday afternoon strong amateur teams compete there. Several new amusement devices have been added to the midway, including "ski ball", a game which has at once become popular. Dancing in the restaurant and canoeing on the river are diversions that are gaining more and more each day and in the cafe a new radio dinner has been arranged.

As usual, Mazie Lunette's slide for life continues to thrill park audiences.

It is presented twice daily as a free attraction.

NEWTON HIGHLANDS SPORTS

The field sports postponed from the Fourth on account of rain were run off Saturday afternoon on the playground under the direction of Mr. Thomas T. Hinkley, with the following results:

Girls' 13 and under 25 yd. dash—Winner Harriet Berger; 2nd, Frances Green.

Girls' 14 and over 50 yd. dash—Winner Katherine Sullivan; 2nd, Katherine Cannon.

Boys' 13 and under 25 yd. dash—Winner Joseph Joyce; 2nd, William Jackson.

Boys' 14 and over 50 yd. dash—Winner Earle Daniels; 2nd, V. Madden.

Boys' Ball and Spoon Race—Winner Earle Daniels; 2nd, John Galvin.

Girls' Ball and Spoon Race—Winner Grace Halliday; 2nd, Katherine Cannon.

Boys' Three-legged Race—Winners Clifford Berger and Allan Rust; 2nd, William Jackson and Joseph Joyce.

Girls' Balloon Throwing—Winner Ethel Ives; 2nd, Dorothy Hazen.

There were as many as thirty entries in some of the races and many heats were required which brought out fine competition.

The Sports Committee of the Newton Highlands Improvement Association was in charge, composed of Thatcher Nelson, chairman; H. C. Berger, R. W. Bonner, Harry P. Forté and Thomas T. Hinkley.

WEST NEWTON W. C. T. U.

SUMMER OUTING

Newton Business Men Will Hold Forth at Nantasket Beach

Next Wednesday afternoon shortly after one o'clock, the Newton Corner Business Men will leave Nonantum Square in automobiles for Nantasket Beach where they will enjoy themselves for the remainder of the afternoon and evening.

When it was learned that the annual outing of the Chamber of Commerce would not be held this summer the Newton Corner business men insisted upon holding an outing under their own auspices and to that end have completed an interesting program.

Every merchant and business man of the city is cordially invited and it is expected that the outing will be the largest yet held by any of the trade associations of the city.

The committee in charge is composed of Harold Moore, John T. Burns, Harry Ellis, W. L. Sampson and Charles E. Mason.

Tickets may be secured from any of the committee. Every one desiring to go should buy tickets not later than Monday evening as the hotel management must be informed at that time how many to provide for.

The program will be as follows: 1:15 P. M. auto squadron leaves corner of Hall and Washington streets, Newton Corner, for the Villa Napoli, Nantasket Beach. (Flags and other decorations will be provided each automobile.)

As soon after arrival as possible there will be a series of athletic events, other sports for all, and also swimming races.

6:00 P. M. the following menu will be served at the hotel:

Rolls and Butter	Queen Olives
Salted Peanuts	Steamed Clams
Clam Broth	Drawn Butter
Chicken Broth with Rice
Clam Chowder
Boiled Sword Fish, Hollandaise Sauce
Half Broiled Chicken
French Fried Potatoes
String Beans
Mixed Salad
Ice Cream	Cake
Cheese	Crackers
Demi Tasse

Appropriate exercises will take place immediately after the dinner and it has been intimated that this part of the program will be worth the price of the ticket.

William M. Cahill is chairman of the committee on sports and his assistants are Frank J. Perry, Harry Ellis, Walter Moore and Burt M. Rich. The outing will be held rain or shine.

PROHIBITION NEWS

Contributed by and Published at the Request of the Newton W. C. T. U.

A WARNING TO VOTERS

Under date of May 8, the New York Tribune acknowledges—perhaps the first of the New York morning papers to do so—that to so far modify the Volstead Act as to authorize traffic in intoxicating liquors for beverage purposes "is a repeal of the amendment by mere act of Congress, something which is unconstitutional."

It then delivers the following warning: "It behooves prohibitionists, therefore, if they would save their reform, to see to it that they do not lose control of both houses of Congress at the same time."

This warning may not be needed, but in this connection it may be well to remember that 200 organizers of the Association Against the Prohibition Amendment, meeting on May 11 at the Pennsylvania Hotel, New York City, adopted the following principles to guide them in the coming elections, as reported the next day by the New York Sun:

(a) If both candidates are wet, follow your own party.

(b) If one is wet and one dry, vote wet, regardless of party.

(c) If both are dry, put up a wet one.

Each person present agreed to make an effort to obtain ten new members in the city, before the next primaries. Someone suggested that many more members could be gotten if the dues were fifty cents instead of a dollar, and immediately two people offered $500 each, to pay the other fifty cents for two hundred new members.

There are many encouraging signs in the prohibition field, and it is, perhaps, one of the most significant factors in the whole situation that everywhere the hydra-headed monster, alcohol, is raising its many heads in a life and death struggle for a victory. It is the wounded and starving, rather than the full-fed, satisfied beast of prey which makes such a struggle, but it may be most dangerous at just such a time. Can we do better than deliver another blow by following the tactics so clearly outlined by the enemy, and

If both candidates are dry, follow our own party.

If one is wet and one is dry, vote dry, regardless of party.

If both are wet, put up a dry one.

SIR ARTHUR DOESN'T MISS HIS WINE!

One may not agree with Sir Arthur Conan Doyle in his ideas regarding communication with the Great Beyond, but he puts to shame many American-born citizens when he declares, "I have been accustomed to my life but I am in America now and can't get it. I have rather lost my appetite for it." His statement evidences a higher regard for the Eighteenth Amendment to our Constitution than is shown by many men of prominence who make no effort to "lose their appetite" for a beverage that has been outlawed by the government to which they profess allegiance.

Y. W. C. A. NOTES

A trip to Cohasset is planned for Saturday, July 15, starting with a boat ride to Nantasket and ending with a swim and picnic supper on the beach at Cohasset.

It is hoped that a large number of girls will avail themselves of this privilege to get to the sea shore for the afternoon.

For girls who are having their summer vacation there will be groups for swimming at Wellesley College, in charge of Miss Mildred Jay, a qualified Red Cross life saver.

Regular summer activities consist of tennis Tuesdays and Thursdays and any one wishing to avail herself of this privilege may do so by signing up at the Y. W. C. A.

The Y. W. C. A. is very much in need of a typewriter and it is hoped that if any one who has one not in use and who would like to dispose of it will notify the Y. W. C. A., Newton North 244-V to make arrangements to have it called for.

ST. JAMES THEATRE—To cap the climax of a very successful season, the management has secured the services of Mantagu Love, the moving picture star. Mr. Love will personally appear in the role of Robert Stafford in George Broadhurst's famous play, "Bought and Paid For." Dorothy Bernard who played the lead in the original Broadway production has also been secured to play opposite Mr. Love in "Bought and Paid For" when it opens for a limited engagement next Monday evening. "Bought and Paid For" is a play that deals with a big theme. The dialogue is pungent and close to the speech of real life, and the author does not make the mistake of overdoing emotion either in action or in dialogue.

POLICE NOTES

Paul B. Elliot of 190 Mt. Vernon street, West Newton, has reported to the police that a tire on a rim was stolen from his car while it was parked on Charles street, Auburndale, near the Newton Boat Club, late Tuesday night. The police have been watching carefully for the perpetrators of the thefts of automobile accessories from automobiles parked in various parts of the city and this is the second theft of this kind reported in the past week.

The department is having considerable difficulty with those people who go away for the summer and leave windows and doors unlocked. In some instances the water has been left running in the yard or in the house. Tuesday the police closed five cellar windows in one house, four in another, as well as cellar doors in two houses. This is a typical day's work for the police with the houses of those who are spending the summer elsewhere.

Sinclair of Waltham, the upholsterer, will always have an Upholstering advertisement in the paper, as he wants your work.

Auburndale

—Mr. and Mrs. McNutt and Mr. and Mrs. Dore have gone to their farm in Bolton.

—Mrs. E. N. Smith has purchased the H. L. Tange house at 1875 Commonwealth avenue.

—Mr. and Mrs. James Cross and family of Auburn street moved this week to Livermore Falls, Me.

—Mrs. Charles Angell of Commonwealth avenue is spending the summer at Hillcrest, South Duxbury.

—Mrs. N. L. Grant of Melrose street returned this week from the Sunday School Conference at Northfield, where she went as a delegate from the Auburndale Congregational Sunday School.

—Mr. and Mrs. H. Winthrop Chandler announce the engagement of their daughter Gladys Marlon to Mr. Raymond Haskell Fox, son of Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Fox.

—Rev. Percival M. Wood, wife and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. John B. McIsaac, Lieut. Frank E. Davis and family were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Harry A. Preston at their cottage "Nirvana," Pocasset, Mass., the past week.

—Mr. Bryant Nichols of 2 Rowe street will leave town on July 20 for East Northfield, Mass., to perform his duties there as Treasurer and Registrar of the Northfield Summer School of Religious Education, which is held from July 21-29. Mr. Nichols expects that by present indications the total registration will be between 600 and 700.

REAL ESTATE NEWS

John T. Burns & Sons report that they have sold for Sarah B. Dufour a lot of land on Crafts street, Newtonville, containing 14,000 square feet. Frank J. Chaplin was the purchaser and will erect an attractive dwelling house in the immediate future. The valuation of the same is $1800.

Burns & Sons report that they have sold for Harry L. Ayer a lot of land on Commonwealth avenue, Newton Centre, for Gladys M. DeLong and Harriet M. Arnold. The lot is located near the corner of Cedar street and contains 17,050 square feet. The total valuation is $5000.

POLICE NOTES

Patrolman Gilbert Whitehouse, who has been in the Police Department for a number of years, has resigned as a patrolman and his resignation has been accepted. Patrolman Whitehouse was a former baseball player in the International League and as a pitcher for the Newton Police Department was very successful.

RICE SENATORIAL CANDIDATE

Representative Abbott B. Rice of Newton Centre has filed with the Secretary of State nomination papers as candidate for the Republican nomination in the First Middlesex Senatorial district. It is not expected that Mr. Rice will be opposed for the nomination as no other candidate has appeared in the field.

DEATH OF MISS UNDERWOOD

With the passing of Miss Gertrude A. Underwood, one of the best known of local nurses, the city of Newton has lost a devoted servant of the public.

Since her graduation from The Newton Hospital School for Nurses twenty years ago, she has given all of her time and often too much of her strength to the bodily afflicted whom she had undertaken to nurse back to their friends and places in life.

Her effort was continually directed toward the welfare of the sick and her hands were as constantly employed to give the valuable and trained assistance required for their comfort and restoration; unselfishness, constancy and kindness being her watchwords, she could not do otherwise.

Though her presence is no longer seen, her influence continues; she will ever be an example to others in her profession; her name will always be spoken with loving regard by those who have known her and have shared her labors. Likewise she will long be remembered by many families in Newton in which she has ministered so faithfully.

Funeral services for John Kurtz Douglas, the 10-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Samuel T. Douglas, whose sudden death, Thursday was a shock to the community, was held at the home of his parents on Avalon road, Waban, last Sunday afternoon at 2 o'clock. Rev. Dr. Charles H. Cutler, minister of Union Church, officiated.

Mrs. Benjamin M. Hall sang "Lead, Kindly Light" and "Nearer My God to Thee."
The popularity of the little fellow was evidenced by the many beautiful floral tributes among which were offerings from his Sunday School class and school mates of Albert Angier School of which he was a pupil in the sixth grade.

The bearers were Dr. Halsey B. Loder, Mr. William B. Stevenson, Mr. J. Edgar Smith, Mr. A. V. Chamberlain. The interment was in Newton Cemetery.

TAKE CARE OF YOUR DOG
There is no more reason why one should allow his dog to become a nuisance to his neighbors than he should permit his cattle or his swine to annoy them and injure their property. If my dog, or dogs, are turned loose day and night and overrun my neighbor's premises, tramping down his garden and bowerbeds or defiling his piazzas and sidewalks, surely my neighbor has just cause for complaint. If we love our dogs, we owe it to them to save them from the enmity of those whose property they might injure. Build a good wire fence around as large an enclosure as you can plan for, and so, while giving freedom and exercise to your dog, keep him from winning the hostility of your neighbors.—From Our Dumb Animals.

BAND CONCERTS

Victory Field for several years and graduate of Harvard Law School has taken hold of Upper Falls Playground, as director in charge and already the results begin to show. He is very capable of getting the boys to use the conveniences which the city puts at their disposal.

The new baseball diamond on the West Newton Playground has stood the hard wear and tear it has received this Spring both from boys using it in the morning, afternoon and evenings and the weather. It is undoubtedly the best amateur diamond in the State and the boys are full of praise of their splendid field.

Owing to the fact that number of young ladies have requested the bathhouse to be opened evenings on the Auburndale Playground arrangements have been made and the woman director to be there some evening.

The band concert and dancing on the green which was scheduled to come off on the Stearns Playground, June 29th, which was spoiled on account of severe rain storm will be held on the playground the evening of August 15th.

The Playground Department acknowledges the receiving of a large bale of leather clippings from the Thomas G. Plant Shoe Factory in Jamaica Plain. This whole bale will soon be turned into very attractive belts by the young children of the Playground. They expect to show many of our young ladies wearing them later.

The department hopes to receive further donations from the citizens of Newton, who have material of similar nature, which otherwise would go to waste.

Happy Phrase.

I remember an old woodsman in the Adirondack forest who used to say that he wanted to go to the top of a certain mountain as often as possible, because it gave him such a feeling of "heaven-up-his-nessness." That is an uncouth, humble, eloquent phrase to describe the function of a great literature.—Henry Van Dyke.

On Osculation.

We are reliably informed that the Society for the Suppression of Human Emotions has put an official ban on kissing. Kissing, says an advance tract, is dangerous. Infection lies in kissing; kissing is immoral; kissing is more frequently idiotic than not, and in any event kissing causes a lot of trouble. Yeah, brothers, yeah! . . . But between us, for all the trouble kissing causes, we find it's worth it.—Richmond Times-Dispatch.

Very Painful Dentistry.

Dwight Crittenden claims the distinction of being the first white man to have a tooth drawn by one of the colored doctors of the African Transvaal. The father of this well-known actor was a mining engineer in Kimberley. While a boy in South Africa shooting pains indicated that a molar must be extracted, and as Dwight Crittenden's father's mines were situated far from medical aid, one of the medicine men was summoned, and after performing a fantastic war dance to the tom-tom, this gentleman extracted the offending molar with the aid of a pair of engineer's pliers. An anesthetic was administered in the form of native incense, but Dwight contends that it only served to intensify the agony.

To Take Census of Bees.

A census of the bees in a hive has been made possible by a clever device invented by an employee of the bureau of entomology.

The invention consists of a gate to be placed at the entrance to a beehive with a series of telephone message registers attached in such a way that every time a bee goes through the gate its passage is recorded. The device is operated electrically by alternating current.

As about 300,000 bees go out during the day, on honey-gathering expeditions, considerable electrical energy is needed to operate the recording gate, though the amount of energy expended by the device each time a bee passes is infinitesimal.

A Willing Spirit.

An old, crippled colored man recently knocked at the door of a North side residence and asked for work, relates the Indianapolis News. Having no work she thought he could do, the woman of the house answered in the negative, but she gave him his breakfast instead. When he handed back his dishes she espied a check in the empty coffee cup and asked the meaning of it, and he said: "Just show it to the mister." It developed that it was a canceled check of the vintage of '16. The housewife accepted it in the spirit it was intended and sent the old fellow happily on his way.

Shipping Cases for Rubber.

A new case for shipping sheet rubber has been introduced into Singapore shipping circles by an American firm. These reach local exporters in the form of sheets made of 100 per cent fiber, the riveting, packing and wiring being done by the shippers. The thinness of the sheets enables the cases built from them to hold from 12 to 25 per cent more weight of rubber than the old wooden boxes, and the new construction is practically unbreakable, very cleanly and water proof.—Scientific American.

PICTURE HUNG BY "SPOOKS"

Rejected Portrait Appears Mysteriously on Walls of Salon in Big New York Hotel.

A phenomenon, as startling and mysterious to the officers and directors of the Society of Independent Artists as were the recent ghostly manifestations in Antigonish to the MacDonalds and Dr. Walter Franklin Prince, was revealed at the artists' exhibition on the top floor of the Waldorf.

The New York spirit nailed a rejected drawing to a wall, and above it hammered four tacks in a card which told that the picture was the work of Mrs. Emma Mabel Field of Chicago, and was called "Impressionistic Personality Portrait of Miss Edith Bennett."

"Spooks or no spooks," said A. S. Baylinton, a director and secretary of the society, "that picture has got to come down. No one gave Mrs. Field permission to have it exhibited, and our walls aren't open for spooks." A special delivery letter from the artist to Mr. Baylinton, arrived a few days later.

"I am starting for home now," her letter says, "and will be under way before this letter is mailed. And I beg to inform you that I have left the matter entirely in the hands of my guide, who has assured me that my poor little picture will be exhibited there whether you wish it or not."—New York Times.

—Inaccuracy of the press reports of the death July 6 at Scituate of John Douglas, 10-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Samuel T. Douglass, have caused much distress. The circumstances were especially sad and should not have been made more so by the misstatement of facts. The boy was visiting the home of W. B. Stevenson and was not alone when the accident occurred. He was under the care of Mrs. Stevenson who made every possible effort to save him.

OUR FIRST CONSIDERATION

A Mutual Savings Bank exists first, last, and always to protect and invest the money of people who cannot afford loss.

The State Laws which govern the investments of this bank are especially designed for your security.

As there are no stockholders all the profits belong to you and the other depositors. Those profits are always as large as is possible where your protection is the first consideration.

No. 8783
Commonwealth of Massachusetts

To Edward C. Street, Jr., John T. Burns and Frank A. Schirmer, of Newton, in the County of Middlesex and said Commonwealth; William T. Folsom, Marguerite Elizabeth Folsom, Katherine Folsom, Mary E. Folsom, Wellington F. Smart, Frank J. Berry and Elizabeth B. Brown, of Boston, in the County of Suffolk and said Commonwealth; Joseph L. Gooch, of Wakefield, and William F. Field, of Weymouth, in the County of Middlesex; Edward R. Estabrooks, of Portland, in the State of Maine; and to all whom it may concern:

Whereas, a petition has been presented to said Court by Katherine V. Day, of Montpelier, in the State of Vermont, to register and confirm her title in the following described land: A certain parcel of land, with the buildings thereon, situate in said Newton, bounded and described as follows:

Northerly by land now or formerly of W. F. Smart and John T. Burns; Easterly by White Oak Road; and Southerly and Westerly by Neshobee Road.

The above described land is shown on plan and with said petition and all boundary lines and claims to be located on the ground as shown on said plan.

You are hereby cited to appear at the Land Court to be held at Boston, in the County of Suffolk, on the thirty-first day of July, A. D. 1922, at ten o'clock in the forenoon, to show cause, if any you have, why the prayer of a said petition should not be granted. And unless you appear at said Court at the time and place aforesaid your default will be recorded, and the said petition will be taken as confessed, and you will be forever barred from contesting said petition or any decree entered thereon.

Witness, Charles Thornton Davis, Esquire, Judge of said Court, this thirtieth day of June in the year nineteen hundred and twenty-two.

Attest with Seal of said Court.
(SEAL)

CLARENCE C. SMITH,
July 7-14-21 Recorder.

Notice is hereby given that the subscriber has been duly appointed executor of the will of Edwin F. Hills, late of Newton, in the County of Middlesex, deceased, testate, and has taken upon himself that office by giving bond, and appointing Joseph N. Palmer, of said Newton, his agent as such law director. All persons having demands upon the estate of said deceased are required to exhibit the same, and all persons indebted to said estate are called upon to make payment to the subscriber.

HENRY BIGELOW HILLS,
Executor.

Genius Not Success Requisite.
There are two kinds of success. One is the very rare kind that comes to the man who has the power to do. That is genius. Only a very limited amount of the success of life comes to persons possessing genius. The average man who is successful—the average statesman, the average public servant, the average soldier, who wins what he calls great success—is not a genius. He is a man who has merely the ordinary qualities.—Theodore Roosevelt.

AUTOCRAT HAD UNHAPPY LIFE

Mighty Czar Could Find No One in His Dominions That Would Tell Him the Truth.

A dramatic little story that illuminates in a flash the strangely unwholesome life that the czar of Russia had to live in the old days is to be found in Mr. James L. Ford's book, "Forty-odd Years in the Literary Shop." Mr. Ford had an intimate acquaintance with Baron de Grimm, whose father had been the tutor of Alexander II of Russia, and who himself had been an intimate friend of the czar.

From De Grimm, he writes, I gained an idea of the isolation of an autocrat and the atmosphere of dread, suspicion and uncertainty that surrounds an autocratic court. When the Czar Alexander II sent his son to the Riviera for the sake of his health he received from the young man's attendants only vague reports in regard to his condition, although couriers arrived daily with letters. On one occasion the soldier who brought the report was ushered into the presence of the czar, who after a hasty glance at his correspondence exclaimed: "There is no letter from my son, and it is some days since I have heard from him."

"But, sire," exclaimed the soldier, "he is no longer able to write!" "Not able to write?" exclaimed the sovereign of all the Russians. "Will nobody ever tell me anything?" And it may be remembered that Nicholas II uttered a like despairing cry when the news of the January massacre, which his courtiers had sedulously kept from him, finally reached his ears.—Youth's Companion.

"WHO'S WHO" WINS PASSPORT

Writer's Somewhat Caustic Comment on Authorities Would Seem to Have Some Justification.

A man who applied in New York for a passport recently was told that he must have a certificate of birth before the document could be issued. He had a passport issued during the war bearing the visa of several European countries. That passport bore the date of his birth. The passport was rejected because it was issued before 1917.

There was no time to send to Chicago for a copy of the certificate of birth. A certificate of baptism was offered and rejected, the explanation being that he might not have been baptized for years after his birth. "What is your business?" asked the clerk. The applicant said that he was a writer. "Are you in 'Who's Who'?" was the next query and the answer was in the affirmative.

"That settles it," said the clerk. He got a copy of "Who's Who" and found that the brief biography gave the date of birth. The application was indorsed. "See 'Who's Who' edition of 1921, page empty umpt," and the document was forwarded to Washington with the assurance that the passport would be back in a few days.

"The government," said the writer afterward, "will not take its own document and would not take my word, but accepted a printed biographical sketch which presumably I had written."

After Pirate Lafitte's Chest of Gold.

Two energetic young men have established a camp on the lower part of Padre Island in the Gulf of Mexico on the Texas shores, in an effort to locate the gold-laden chests of the Pirate Lafitte who, according to the legends of the country, frequented those parts and it is supposed that some of the wealth which he accumulated must be buried in the sands of that shore. The men say they are there to stay and they have brought some machinery with which the work will be facilitated. It is said that they have uncovered some interesting material which leads them to believe that they are on the right track.

Oh, Boy!

A filing clerk in a downtown department store, one of those light jazz models whose mind is always out toddling at the last dance of the night before, or the next one to come.

One day she went to the manager's desk with a salesman's report on a city customer. The report gave the customer's name and bore the notation that he was "hopelessly ill."

"Mr. Grant," she said indignantly. "I have looked through all the directories and I can't find any city like Hopelessly in Illinois."—Los Angeles Times.

Some Other Fellow's Sister.

Our family consists of my father and mother, myself and my sister, who is several years younger than I am. Returning home unexpectedly after a long absence in China, I walked in unannounced. About the time my father and mother and I were through hugging each other, a young girl of nineteen entered the room. I grabbed her in my arms, kissed her and said, "Kid, if you were not my sister I would fall in love with you." "I am not your sister," said a smothered voice. And she wasn't. But I kept my promise.—Exchange.

"Calls" Telephone Users.

A miniature "hour glass" is now being used to time the telephone conversation, says the Scientific American. Its upper compartment exhausts itself of sand in just three minutes; with one eye on the glass, the telephone user sees when the time is almost up, and can speed up his business accordingly, so that the talk may be finished within the specified three minutes of the long distance call.

DANGER IN BORING FOR OIL

Fluid Frequently Comes With Force and Suddenness That Workers Find Hard to Control.

Fuel oil, as a means of propulsion, has been gradually coming into favor for a number of years. The war increased its use in many ways, and the coal strike gave a fillip that may only be overcome when the comparative cost between coal and fuel oil gives the former the advantage. Boring for oil is often accomplished with danger to the men from the pent-up force which is released. The first indication that oil has been reached is a rush of gas and then comes oil, sometimes with such terrific force that it has been known to carry tools, gear and loose stones and earth to a great height. Large quantities of oil are often lost before a valve can be placed over the hole and a check put upon the gusher. So great is the pressure—it varies from 200 pounds to 1,000 pounds—that oil may spout hundreds of feet into the air. In Mexico, a few years ago, a column of oil reached 600 measured feet. It is unsuitable for use when first got out of the ground, owing to the mud it contains, but when this has settled to the bottom of the settling tank it is refined. First petrol and benzine are extracted by distillation before it is sent to the storage tanks to be used as crude oil. So far the method which finds most favor for burning oil in furnaces is known as the low pressure furnace, and is forced through pipes to the burner under the boiler in the form of a fine spray.

RAP AT MODERN PREACHERS

Bishop Denny Tells Good Story in Which Distinct Moral Is Not Too Well Hidden.

Bishop Collins Denny said in an address in Richmond:

"I heard a story the other day that hits a good many preachers. It seems that the janitor of a fashionable church was showing his wife through the edifice. At the end of the inspection he said to her:

"Would you like to hear me preach?"

"Go on! You can't preach!" she objected.

"Can't I, though?" said the janitor, and he went up into the pulpit and ranted and roared and raged a good 20 minutes or more about the vile sins committed daily by the heathen in equatorial Africa.

"Then when he finished, he said, as he came down, wiping his hot face:

"There; how was that for a sermon?"

"It was mighty fine," said his wife. "But you told all about the sins of the natives away off in Africa and never a word about the sins of the folks right here at home."

"The janitor chuckled.

"Ha! Ha!" he said. "I know the tricks of preachin' too well for that."

—Los Angeles Times.

How It Happens.

Five villains, with gyves upon their wrists, sat in durance vile.

"It is strange," said he, "that you five stalwart scoundrels, after robbing the bank and maltreating all persons who sought to stay you, should have allowed yourselves to be knocked down and hogtied by a lone cripple equipped with naught but a crabtree cudgel."

"Alas, sir," replied the most lowbrowed of the lot. "Our lack of forethought was our undoing. We expected to encounter only the usual heavily armed guard, which could not run and capture a lost gosling. Instead, we met this lame lad with a club, who meant business and had no desire to show off. Of course, we did not know how to comport ourselves."

—Kansas City Star.

Refused to Award Prize.

Eighty-three years ago the city of Frankfurt-am-Main, birthplace of Goethe and home of Germany's greatest bankers, established a Mozart prize to be awarded annually for the best musical composition along any line that the competitors might feel disposed to follow. Forty-five manuscripts were submitted in 1921, but for the first time in the history of the prize, worth 5,000 marks, no award was made, the reason being inferior quality of all the works sent in. One of the competitors was Engelbert Humperdinck.—New York Evening Post.

Pope's White Mule.

The coronation of Pius XI, which took place in Rome, was the last solemnity completing the election of a new pope. Prior to the loss of temporal power, in 1870, however, the papal coronation was always preceded by the cavalcade, or procession in state, with which the new pope rode forth to take formal possession of the famous Lateran church. On this occasion only the holy father would be seen riding a white mule. Pius VIII first dropped the custom in 1829, by choosing to drive in a coach drawn by six horses, his white mule being led behind.

Destructive Landslide.

The picturesque island of Mount Saint Michel (Normandy) appears to be jeopardized as the result of a landslide which has occurred there. The main street of the island has given way, leaving a gap 25 feet wide by 20 feet long. Engineers have been summoned to carry out an examination of the foundations of the beautiful old abbey which crowns the rock, as it is feared that the landslide may extend to the vaults on which the abbey stands.

Milk Snake Harmless.

The house or milk snake is a handsome and mild-tempered colubroid snake, very abundant in farming districts, where it frequently enters houses, probably in search of mice rather than for the purpose of drinking milk, as is popularly believed.

CAPT. CLEAR ORDERED TO ORIENT

Popular Newton Boy Receives Coveted Appointment to Study Oriental Languages

Captain Warren J. Clear, U. S. A., son of Mr. and Mrs. James Clear of 15 Hovey St., Newton, will sail for Japan Aug. 10, for a four-year course in the Japanese and Chinese languages. It will be his second tour of service in the Orient as he returned to the United States last August after serving three years in Siberia and

CAPT. WARREN J. CLEAR, U. S. A.

China during the World War and after. While stationed in Tientsin, China, as an officer in the U. S. China expedition he made an intensive study of the Chinese language and acquired a speaking knowledge of it before leaving the Orient.

Capt. Clear is a product of the Newton Schools just previous to our entry into the World War, he became a member of the Harvard Reserve Officers' Training Corps and was in the famous "First Squad" of Co. "G" which numbered in its eight members "Charlie" Brickley, "Tacks" Hardwick, Sam Felton and other notables.

While a member of the Harvard unit he took examinations for commission in the Regular Army but was not permanently commissioned until October, 1917. After five months at Cambridge and Barre, Mass., he was sent to Plattsburg to complete his training as a Reserve Officer. In October, 1917, he was assigned to the 22nd Infantry, Governors' Island, N. Y., and after serving at various other Army Posts in the East and West was ordered to Siberia. Upon withdrawal of the 31st Infantry from Vladivostok he was transferred to the 15th Infantry, stationed at Tientsin, China.

A rapidly acquired speaking knowledge of the Mandarin (North China) dialect secured him a detail as Assistant to the Intelligence Officer, Philippine Department, and he subsequently made trips over most of China, mapping and reconnoitering her principal transportation routes, both rail and waterway. He later visited Japan and the battlefields of the Russo-Japanese War in and around the famous Port Arthur, and had an opportunity to visit Kiaochow Bay and the town of Tsing-Tau which Japan took from Germany in November, 1914.

He later made several trips into the famine districts of Central China on food-distributing commissions and was awarded the Third Class Wen Hu Decoration by the Chinese Government for his services.

In January last year, 1921 he was ordered to the Philippines in command of the Infantry Company sent to represent the United States China Expedition at the Annual Military and Athletic Carnival held in Manila. This company won the competitive close-order drill defeating the Regular Army entrants and several crack Philippine Scout Organizations.

After short tours of service in the Philippines and at Honolulu, Hawaii, he was ordered back to the United States and stationed at Camp Meade, Maryland.

While a member of the U. S. China Expedition he won the silver trophy emblematic of the light heavyweight championship of North China at the Inter-Allied Tournament conducted by the military forces representing the various Powers.

As a student at Boston College Capt. Clear was prominent in all athletic and literary activities and was president of his section in his sophomore year. He received premiums for excellence in French, Greek, Latin and Physics, and in his Junior year

PLAYGROUND NEWS

Last Friday morning all the directors met at City Hall for a get-together meeting and for getting inspiration. His Honor Mayor Childs gave a forcible address on the value of playground work, emphasizing the fact that personality is a most valuable teacher and the right kind of personality on a playground can do more for the development of healthy citizenship than any other educational force. Mr. William C. Brewer, chairman of the Playground Commission also addressed the directors showing them incidents where the playground directors had become one of the practical forces in his community, thereby showing the instructors the enormous field of usefulness a playground director has in any community.

The superintendent of Playgrounds took up some of the physical, mental and moral phases in line with playground activities. In addition he took up some of the routine matters of administration.

The Athletic Directors and Special Teachers in charge of Occupation Play then gathered directors into groups to outline some of their special work.

The next Playground directors' institute will be held on Saturday morning on the Burr Playground. The Local Playground directors will demonstrate the running of their playground.

won the Gold Medal at the Annual Marquette Prize Debate and the fifty dollar purse at the Annual Oratorical Contest. He served terms as Treasurer of the Fulton and President of the Marquette Debating Societies, and was later Editor-in-chief of the Boston College Monthly, The Stylus. He was also a member of the Intercollegiate Debating Team. Upon graduation he received the degree of Bachelor of Arts.

He wrote a history of the Fifteenth U. S. Infantry, while on duty with that regiment in China.

Capt. Clear will visit his parents in Newton before sailing for the Orient.

BEAUTIFUL DRIVES

There are many beautiful and interesting drives in and around Newton. One day last week in about three hours' time and covering less than fifteen miles we found as much of interest as could well be crowded into that time and space. We had no desire to hurry—our desire was to escape the heat and have a little pleasure, so we started off from Auburn-dale. Passing along the Boulevard, we turned off at Chestnut street and went through a section of Waban. The Waban Conservatories which have received so much attention lately through the Umer litigations, were on the right and soon the "distant" spires and antique towers that crown the watery glades of Newton Upper Falls came into view.

Skirting the side hill of this old terraced town, we came to the new bronze tablet recently placed on the Emerson School lawn in memory of the soldiers in the Great War. It is a homely piece of New England rock which has been used but the tablet itself is beautiful.

We stopped to read the tablet and also to admire the fine view across the gorge of the Charles River, and to the hills beyond, and then drove on to the handsome Church of Mary Immaculate with its Italian bell tower, which is directly opposite the Stone Home for Aged People of Newton.

On down the hill by the Pettee Inn we passed to the Saco-Lowell Mills to the Newton Water Works Pumping Station, which resembles a gothic Old English Chapel, and then through the new Bernard street, which is opening up new land towards the Charles River Country Club. We stopped here at "Charlemont" to drink of the "little hidden spring," and to admire the view of the Charles River, which was at its widest on account of the heavy rains lately.

Again taking the road, we saw the City Home, a very handsome building, passed the brick and stone Working Boys Home, and came to large farms, and fine greenhouses.

BUSINESS MEN'S OUTING

Members Turn Out in Large Number and Enjoy Good Time

"The greatest ever." This was the unanimous verdict of the nearly 200 Newton Business Men, who took part in the first annual outing, under the auspices of the Newton Corner merchants. The outing was by far the best and largest ever held by a local trade association.

A squadron of about forty autos left Newton Corner shortly before two o'clock and after a tour of the square, started for the Villa Napoli at Nantasket Beach, where immediately upon arrival a series of athletic events were run off under the direction of William M. Cahill.

The first event was a nail driving contest with the team composed of Kenneth Hastings, Wm. M. Cahill, M. Carney, M. Kaufman and captained by John T. Burns defeating all other contestants. The prize was a box of cigars, donated by Chas. E. Mason.

The pipe-smoking contests were won by Joseph Richards and Carl Withee with W. Woodman and Harry Ellis second place winners. Richards won a three-piece carving set donated by Moore & Moore, while Withee was given one of Otis Bros.' silk shirts.

"Joe" Akins with Carl Withee close on his heels broke the tape a winner in the "mile" run. He was given a fine umbrella donated by Harry Ellis.

One of the most amusing races was the shoe race. Each of the contestants took off one shoe. The shoes were placed in a pile several yards from the start and just as the racers approached the pile some of the spectators threw the shoes in all directions and the chase to find the right shoes was worth witnessing. The winner was the one to get his shoe laced up first. W. Ferguson, who finished first was presented with a fountain pen donated by F. J. Perry. Frank Fell won second place by a close shave.

Many pitched quoits but none could keep pace with John Dewey and Robert Allen, who were also rewarded with suitable prizes.

Arthur Pierotti's married men's ball team defeated Fred Avantaggio's bachelor nine 7-5.

"Manny" Bloomberg was the fastest swimmer and Kenneth Hastings second best.

P. A. Murray the handsomest man present, John T. Burns, the finest orator, and George Heathote, the best chauffeur, were each awarded a gallon can of strawberry preserves, donated by Arthur Wright.

Harold Moore, chairman of the outing was given a half barrel of flour, donated by the Washburn-Crosby Company, in recognition of his efforts in conducting such a successful occasion.

Alderman Thomas W. White made the presentation speeches and the last to receive a reward of merit was "Huzhey" Fogwill, who never misses an outing of this nature. The toastmaster also introduced as speakers George Stanley Harvey, Harry B. Ross, Arthur W. Hollis and P. A. Murray.

A most pleasing announcement was that Mr. John Flood, one of Newton's oldest business men, was celebrating his 77th birthday. The applause lasted several minutes and it was regretted that Mr. Flood had left for Newton before the announcement was made.

NATIONAL CATHOLIC EDUCATIONAL ASSOCIATION ADOPTS RESOLUTIONS URGING INSTRUCTION IN CITIZENSHIP

Resolutions unanimously adopted at the nineteenth annual convention of the National Catholic Educational Association, held recently in Philadelphia, included, according to the North American, the following paragraphs:

"Pupils should be taught to appreciate the incomparable blessing they enjoy as citizens of our republic, and should be urged to prepare themselves to exercise in a worthy manner all the duties of American citizenship."
"Colleges and universities owe it to the nation to do all in their power to imbue our Catholic youth with a wholesome respect for law and all rightful authority."

CANADIAN PRESBYTERIANS FAVOR STRAIGHT PROHIBITION

During its recent meeting, held this year in Winnipeg, the General Assembly of the Presbyterian Church of Canada, according to press despatches, passed strong resolutions on the subject of prohibition, calling upon the church people of Canada to fight against anything less than total prohibition, and protesting against government control of the liquor traffic as a failure, since a government in the liquor business was practically obliged to bring in all kinds of liquor and to push their sale.

CALIFORNIA DRUGGISTS TO AID DRY FIGHT

At the sixteenth annual convention of the California Pharmaceutical Association held recently in Avalon, resolutions designed to aid the government in the enforcement of prohibition were adopted. These, according to the Visalia (Cal.) Delta, include a plea that steps be taken to stop the opening up of the so-called "Talcum Powder" drug stores which have been springing up in the larger cities, stocked with a few drug articles, but in reality depending upon the liquor traffic for their chief revenue. To remedy this situation the following resolution was passed:

"That it be suggested to the state prohibition director and prohibition commissioner at Washington that new drug stores being opened henceforth and apparently surviving only through illegitimate liquor traffic, be limited to five gallons of alcohol per month, the quantity not to be increased until the owner of such store can show a volume of legitimate business which will warrant such increase."

Another resolution hitting at these institutions reads:

"That no new drug stores being opened after date be given a permit to dispense spirituous liquors, whisky, gin, brandy or wine during the first twelve months of their business."

A resolution urging the government to supervise and regulate the sale and distribution of narcotics to licensed physicians and pharmacists was also passed.

PRIVATE CITIZEN MUST HELP TO ENFORCE THE LAW

Governor Cox of Massachusetts has a definite idea about the duty of the people in regard to enforcement of the prohibition law. He says, as recently quoted by the Chicago Herald Examiner:

"Decent citizens must aid in giving evidence against bootleggers, who are selling abominable stuff that drives men crazy. If it does not kill them. It has been fashionable in some quarters to talk about 'favored bootleggers,' but the danger threatened carries the situation beyond any stage for joking."

President Harding Says Eighteenth Amendment Must Be Sustained

With no uncertain note did President Harding sound the call to a steadfast loyalty to the Constitution as amended by the will of the people when on July Fourth he addressed a great throng of "friends and neighbors" in his home town of Marion, Ohio. In connection with emphasis upon strict law enforcement, he spoke of the Eighteenth Amendment.

"Majorities, restrained to the protection of minorities, ever must rule," he declared. "The Constitution and the laws sponsored by the majority must be enforced. It does not matter who opposes. If an opposing minority has a just objection, the rising tide of public opinion will change the law. There is no abiding liberty under any other plan."

"I mean to sound no note of pessimism. This republic is secure. Menaces do arise, but public opinion will efface them. Meanwhile Government must repress them. The Eighteenth Amendment denies to a minority a fancied sense of personal liberty, but the amendment is the will of America and must be sustained by the Government and public opinion, else contempt for the law will undermine our very foundations."

Pennsylvania County Improved By Prohibition

That he might ascertain the result of prohibition in Lancaster county, Pennsylvania, John H. Landis, of Millersville, sent a thousand questionnaires to citizens in every borough and township in the county. Tabulating the replies received, according to the Philadelphia North American, he found that 35 reported as much drinking as there was 2 years ago, and 704 said there was not; only 19 believed there was as much drunkenness, and 718 reported less; 196 thought that the moral condition of their communities had not improved, while 569 said it was higher; and 191 felt that political conditions were no better, while 423 believed that these, too, had improved.

Prohibition In U. S. Is Termed Miracle

"Prohibition in America is the miracle of the twentieth century, according to Dr. Gifford Gordon of Melbourne, Australia," says the San Francisco Examiner.

"Dr. Gordon was sent to this country ten months ago by the Anti-Liquor League of Australia, to investigate the effect of prohibition and to gather facts to help the Australian campaign for prohibition. He said:

"I have traveled 16,000 miles in this country and have interviewed judges, police chiefs, bank managers, hospital and jail attaches relatives to the prohibition situation. I was greatly impressed with the unanimity of opinion regarding its effectiveness."

PULITZER PRIZE FOR POETRY

Columbia University has announced the award of the Pulitzer Prizes in American letters for the year 1921. The $1,000 prize for the best volume of verse published during the year was awarded to Edwin Arlington Robinson for his "Collected Poems," which were published last fall by the Macmillan Company.

Mr. Robinson is one of those few fortunate geniuses who are acclaimed as such while still at the height of their power. Yale University has just awarded Mr. Robinson the degree of Doctor of Letters as "America's foremost living poet." The Author's Club at its recent annual meeting voted that this collection of his poems was the book of the most enduring value to English literature published during the past year. And on the occasion of his fiftieth birthday his friends and fellow craftsmen united to pay him tribute in a group of letters to the press—such tribute as has seldom been given to any living poet.

Mr. Robinson was born at Head Tide, Maine, in 1869. His family moved to Gardiner, Maine, in the following year, and while still a boy he spent long days in the barn hammering in to his first booklet. He studied at Harvard University, and the story of his life since then lies in the list of his published work, from "The Children of the Night" (Y.P.R.56c) in 1897, through "Captain Craig" (Y.P.R.56b), "The Man against the Sky" (Y.P.R.56m), "Merlin" (Y.P.R.56me), "Lancelot" (Y.P.R.56L) and "The Three Taverns" (Y.P.R.56t), to this new volume of his "Collected Poems" (Y.P.R.56c). It has also written several plays, including "Van Zorn" (Y.D.R.56v) and "The Porcupine" (Y.D.56p). The latter has been recently acquired for production by Emanuel Reicher.

Amy Lowell has devoted considerable space to Mr. Robinson in her book on "Tendencies in Modern American Poetry" (Z.Y.3P.L.9). His home is in the "far reaches of Brooklyn," where according to "The Bookman" "he sits in a room littered with books, and hung with soft landscapes painted by a friend, writes poetry, and lets the world go hang. Like Masefield, he seems a trifle austere—dark, quiet, with a trifle of humor now and then; one of the simplest figures of American letters." He himself says: "Several superficial critics who have called me a pessimist have been entirely wrong in their diagnosis. In point of fact, I recommend a careful reading of my books to anyone who wished to become an incurable optimist." Mr. Robinson spends his summers at Peterboro, N. H.

The Springs of Art.

The great human reservoirs, from which the world draws its masterpieces of art as thoughtlessly as it draws a cup of water from the faucet, are fed by many subterranean springs which flow spontaneously, freely, irresistibly, always giving, joyous to be giving, without price, but not without much cost to the owner.—William Howe Downes.

OLD FAITHFUL GEYSER

THE Lord didn't make many geysers or water volcanoes, but he gave a distinct individuality to each of the few which he did make.

He placed the majority of them in Yellowstone park and of these, one has been dignified with the name—Old Faithful, because of its dependability. Geysers are do-as-you-please freaks of Nature. Their activities are generally devoid of any regularity. Some "go off" with great frequency; Others only at long intervals. But, Old Faithful, true to the name, can be depended upon, day and night, winter or summer, to thrust her tremendous column of water high into the air (some times 170 feet), for four minutes at a time, at intervals of from sixty-five to eighty minutes.

From a bowl-shaped surface opening an irregular passage, known as a tube, reaches down to the intensely heated regions. Water from the surface or underground springs trickles down through rocks and holes and collects in the bottom of this tube. The heat makes it boil. Then it turns to steam. The steam forces the water toward the top. Later, clouds of steam arise. Finally, the pressure of the steam overcomes the weight of the water above and the geyser erupts with astonishing force, continuing to do so until all the water in the tube has been expelled.

The discharged water falls to the ground and cools off. Soon the water again collects in the tube, becomes heated to the breaking-out point and the operation is repeated.

According to observations made by the U. S. Geological Survey, Old Faithful "shoots" 1,500,000 gallons of water at each eruption, or about 33,225,000 gallons every twenty-four hours—enough to supply a city of 300,000 inhabitants.

TO ALL EX-SERVICE MEN
World War veterans who have delayed in filing claims for compensation with the government have until August 9 to obtain a certificate of injury, late of which will militate against their making a claim for compensation in the future, if they fail to apply for compensation within five years of the date of their discharge from service, according to an announcement made yesterday by Dr. Arthur E. Brides, New England manager of the Veterans' Bureau.
The Certificate of injury may be obtained from Colonel Charles R. Forbes, National Director of the Veterans' Bureau at Washington.
It is not necessary to file a claim for compensation or to take formal action other than the writing of a letter to the Director, United States Veterans' Bureau, Washington, D. C., giving the name, rank, organization, date of enlistment and discharge, and stating the circumstances under which the disease or injury was incurred.
Under the existing law, veterans who were discharged between April 6 and October, 1917, can apply either to the Pension or Veterans' Bureau within five years, while war veterans discharged after October 6, 1917, will have no right whatever unless they make claim within five years of the date of their discharge from service.
Parents who have not yet filed claim for dependency or compensation benefits because of the death of an ex-service man who died because of a disability that may be connected with service, are compelled under the law to file their claim showing the dependency within five years of the death of such a veteran.
Mr. Wm. M. Noone will be at the office of the Home Service Section, Newton Chapter, American Red Cross, 306 Walnut street, Newtonville, on Friday evenings, from 7.30 to 9 o'clock, and will at this time help those wishing to secure the above certificates or file claims with the government.

Standard Scale Shortened.
In 1889 20 nations decided to take their standard of length from a platinum scale; now France, the jealous guardian of this piece of metal, is alarmed to find that it has lengthened by a demimicron, or five-millionths of a meter, says the Scientific American. The only explanation available is that the annual cleaning of the bar may have been responsible for displacing the platinum molecules. It will be carefully watched for the next ten years and the cleaning may have to be abandoned.

SAD FATE OF HENRY JASON

Abject Condition of Henpecked Husband, Example of the Loss of Personal Property.

Henry Jason, the noted henpecked husband, is another example of what the loss of personal liberty can do to a man. When the fathers of our constitution passed the law relating to matrimony they forever put the shackles on Henry Jason, Henry's zero hour came when Portia Strong led him to the altar and the justice of the peace tied the fatal knot. He has tasted no nectars of liberty since, Bert Walker writes in the Topeka Capital. But Henry has not the strong and forceful character of Old Bill Shiftless, so he submits without a whimper. He tried whimpering once and it put him in a hospital for two weeks. One day when Portia was away attending a meeting of the Advanced Thought club, which was very busy emancipating woman, a long-haired leader left a pamphlet at the Jason kitchen door. Henry stopped long enough to read the front page. The first line read: "It is high time to administer a rebuke and to check the forces which are trying to overthrow our constitutional immunities and liberties." Just then Henry heard a step on the front porch. He thought it was Portia. He was at once stricken with palsy and fell in a dead faint. It was two hours before he came to and was able to burn the pamphlet. He was still shaking like an aspen leaf when Portia returned at midnight. Had Henry Jason not been deprived of his personal liberty when a young man his name would have gone down on the pages of history alongside those of John L. Sullivan and Jack Dempsey.

HELPED IN GOING THROUGH

Motorists Got to Their Destination, but "Papa" Had Had a Lot to Do With It.

A party of tourists was attempting to reach Pendleton on the Pendleton pike between Indianapolis and Pendleton when one of those things that happen to motorists so frequently on country roads happened. It was the day after a heavy rain and the ground was thawing rapidly when this party descended hub-deep in good, old Hoosier mud. Through some trick of luck, assisted by elbow grease, the automobile was rescued from the mud hole and the party about-faced to inquire at the nearest farmhouse of another route to Pendleton.

A small country boy came to the door and seemed very reluctant to give information as to the condition of other roads leading to Pendleton. "Have any other machines been going through on this road?" the boy was asked.

"Sure, they all have been going through. Papa's been taking 'em through for $4 apiece. You guys is the first customers we have lost," replied the boy with a deep frown.

A look around disclosed that papa too was disheartened at the good luck of the motorists in getting out on their own power, because he had his team hitched up ready to increase his mud-hole income for the week.

Long Cross-Country Hike.
Father Time is the only spectator at this celestial sporting event, but he must find it a thrilling one. In a 40,000-year voyage from the stars to the earth, pulses of blue and yellow light run at neck-and-neck race, according to a bulletin issued by the Harvard College observatory. Traveling 180,000 miles a second, the two kinds of light do not differ in velocity as much as an inch a second, the bulletin says. In the entire journey neither gains as much as two minutes.

This conclusion has been reached by study of faint variable stars in remote clusters, one of the brightest and nearest of which is designated Messier 5. The distance from the earth of this ball-shaped swarm of thousands of giant stars, just calculated by Harvard astronomers, is announced as 12.2 kiloparsecs or nearly 40,000 light years—a cross-country hike of more than two hundred thousand trillion miles.

Earl Has to Feed Stock.
The earl of Fingall and his family are engaged in caring for their stock themselves, owing to labor troubles. At Killeen castle, which dates from the year 1100, efforts to organize a union made the employees quit working, wherefore the Countess Fingall goes out to cut the turnips, while the earl and his son, Lord Killeen, feed the stock, which, being of the choicest breeds, requires the most regular kind of attention. The pigs get one feeding daily, and horses two and the cattle in stalls three.—London Mail.

MORTGAGEE'S SALE OF REAL ESTATE

By virtue and in execution of the power of sale contained in a certain mortgage given by Christopher C. Crowell to Roland F. Gammons and Charles J. A. Wilson, as they are trustees of the Newton Real Estate Trust, under a Declaration of Trust dated October 17, 1921, recorded with Middlesex South District Deeds, Book 476, Page 464, for breach of the conditions of said mortgage and for the purpose of foreclosing the same, will be sold at public auction on the premises hereinafter described, on Tuesday, the fifteenth day of August, A.D. 1922, at four o'clock in the afternoon, all and singular the premises conveyed by said mortgage, with all improvements thereon, to-wit: the premises described in said mortgage deed, as follows:

A certain parcel of land situate on the Northerly side of Sargent Street, in said Newton, and shown as lot numbered one on "Plan of Sargent Park, Newton, Mass., dated January 8, 1922, Wm. E. Leonard, C. E.," bounded and described as follows: Commencing at a point on the Northerly side of said Sargent Street, at the Southeasterly corner of the herein granted premises, at land now or formerly of White; Thence running Northeasterly by said land of White one hundred twenty-nine and 67/100 (129.67) feet to a point at land now or formerly of Jameson, shown as lot numbered 2 on said plan; Thence turning and running Northeasterly by said lot numbered 2, eighty-five and 49/100 (85.49) feet to a point at other land now or formerly of Jameson, shown on said plan as Sargent Park; Thence turning and running Southeasterly by said other land of Jameson one hundred thirty-four and 90/100 (134.90) feet to a point on the Northerly line of said Sargent Street; Thence turning and running Northeasterly in two courses by said Northerly line of said Sargent Street thirty-two and 37/100 (32.37) feet and fifty-seven and 11/100 (57.11) feet, respectively, to said land of White and the point of beginning; Containing 11,682 square feet, be the same more or less.

Said premises will be sold subject to the restrictions contained in deed of Jessie L. Jameson to said Crowell, dated April 3, 1922, with the benefit of the right of way therein mentioned, and subject also to a mortgage given by said Crowell to the Highland Trust Company, duly recorded with Middlesex South District deeds, and to any and all unpaid taxes and municipal liens and assessments, if any there be. Three hundred dollars ($300) will be required to be paid by the purchaser at the time and place of sale. Other terms and conditions of sale will be announced at the sale. For further particulars inquire of the mortgagees, number 1314 Washington Street, West Newton, Massachusetts.

July 17, 1922.
Editor of The Newton Graphic:

We have all noticed the large number of mosquitoes which, during the past few weeks, has made it uncomfortable to sit out of doors in the evening, and it has occurred to me that the boys and girls of Newton can aid in an attempt to reduce the number.

Mosquitoes breed in stagnant water, but how few of us realize that an empty can with a little rain water in it is a favorite breeding place for these pests. It has been shown that a single tomato can with half an inch of rain water in the bottom will produce from 100 to 250 mosquitoes.

I would suggest that the Boy and Girl Scouts and all the boys and girls in Newton make a point of emptying every can which they see and take care that it is put in such a position that it cannot hold water.

By so doing they will aid in destroying a nuisance and become qualified to take part in the work of destroying mosquitoes, the preliminary plans for which were discussed at a meeting in Cambridge last week by representatives from many cities in the Metropolitan district.

BUSINESS MEN'S OUTING

the Villa and from all accounts everyone was satisfied.

Vocal selections to the accompaniment of an orchestra, were rendered by Newton Corner's popular tenor, Joe Antonelli, and were most enthusiastically received.

That the affair was so successful was due to the efforts of the committee in charge: Harold Moore, chairman, Wm. M. Cahill, W. L. Sampson, John T. Burns, Harry Ellis and many other local business men.

In the evening, as usual, Paragon Park and the other amusement places were visited, the many and varied attractions affording much pleasure to those who looked on as well as those who tested their skill.

ROBIN—THE GLIMPSES OF THE MOON

Today's Novels

Mrs. Burnett and Mrs. Wharton are publishing today their latest novels. The former's "Robin" is a sequel to "The Head of the House of Coombe," while Mrs. Wharton's, "The Glimpses of the Moon," following her "Age of Innocence," pictures vividly New York Society life of today. Another new novel just out is Irving Bachelier's, "In the Days of Poor Richard." This is a story on the founding of our republic, Washington, Franklin and Adams being among the outstanding characters.

The Newton Free Library and its branch libraries will have these books for circulation tonight, Friday, at 7.30 P. M., sharp, this being their day of publication.

A. O. U. W. ANNIVERSARY

Elks' Hall was crowded Wednesday evening at the celebration by Garden City Lodge, A. O. U. W., of its 28th anniversary.

The Grand Lodge was represented by John E. O'Connor, G. I. W., and Thomas Rafferty, D. D. G. M. W., who delivered addresses.

Miss F. McDonald and Miss Margaret Blackley contributed vocal selections, Miss Zita Crandall, Miss E. Dunderary and Miss Margaret Bernier recitations; James McLaughlin, vocal numbers and recitations. There were refreshments and dancing.

Mrs. M. Gibson was chairman of a large committee.

REAL ESTATE

The following transactions have been negotiated through the office of Alvord Bros.:

J. E. Dudley has sold to the Colonial Filling Station, Inc., the property numbered 776 Beacon street, and 43-45 Langley road, Newton Centre, consisting of a frame stable, several stores and 13,500 feet of land, valued at $18,000. It is the intention to raze the buildings and to erect a brick and stucco gasoline filling station from the plans of Coolidge & Carlson, architects.

Charles B. Morrill sold J. J. Conley the estate numbered 10-14 Ripley terrace, Newton Centre, consisting of a double frame house and 6,911 square feet of land, the whole assessed for about $10,000.

The Newton Theological Institution has leased to Edward Lawton the estate numbered 40 Cypress street, corner Braeland avenue, consisting of a large single house and about one-half acre of land.

Take Your Time.

An eminent English doctor says every one ought to have a post-mortem for the benefit of science. He may be right, but we have a positive disinclination to be in a hurry to accommodate science in this way.

REGULAR PERIODS OF FAMINE

Every Seven Years Starvation Threatens Indians and Eskimos in the Canadian North.

Every seven years starvation stalks in the Northland. The snowshoe rabbits die. And just as surely as they die, so do the Eskimo and the Indian of northern Canada.

It was in one of these fatal years that Alanson Skinner, curator of the Milwaukee museum, entered the Hudson Bay country on an exploration trip for the American Museum of Natural History, the Milwaukee Journal reports.

Arriving at Moose Factory, he was surprised at the stories he heard. Every hunter and every trapper from the wilds brought them back.

The natives were dying by hundreds, literally starving to death. It was a case of the survival of the fittest. Should a man turn his back upon even his best friend for a moment, he was apt to be killed. Cannibalism was rife.

Skinner saw many gruesome sights as he pushed on from Moose Factory to Rupert's, the last outpost. At one time he sat down to eat beside a French trapper who arrived at Rupert's. He noticed that the man watched him with a strange light in his eyes. He left the table, but on looking back, found the man's eyes were still fastened upon him.

"What ails that fellow?" he inquired of an Indian.

"He eat human flesh once of cousin Frenchman and Indian guide," the native explained. "Now he crazy. Must have more all time."

Skinner was mighty glad that he had not encountered the crazed Frenchman alone on the trail, he said.

JAP GIRLS EAGER TO LEARN

Devote Little Time to the Pleasures So Dear to Hearts of Their American Sisters.

Never a dance do the Japanese girls shimmy at. Never a class do they "cut" to get a hot fudge. "Dates" are as scarce with them as galoshes on a summer day.

All of which was deduced from a talk with Miss Elizabeth Iilsley, Evanston, Ill., recently head of the music department at Kobe college, Japan.

"Japanese girls are much better students than American girls," Miss Iilsley said. "No discipline is needed; they are so eager to learn. They don't have much fun, though, except among themselves."

Unless a girl is converted to Christianity, she said, a college education does not interfere with her marriage, because it is already arranged by her parents.

"Japanese girls are quiet. Most of them have an earnest ambition to come to the United States and study. They don't want to stay, only to learn what they can and return to help their own women."

Although Miss Iilsley would not say that Japanese women are gossips, she admitted that they serve tea from morning until night to any callers that drop in. And what is tea without gossip?—Milwaukee Journal.

Uncle Sam's Auction Room.

The United States has become the world's auction room. Hardly a day passes that does not see art treasures of the old world sold on the block to be carried to homes throughout the United States. A great auction was recently held in New York which included the household furniture and art objects from some of the oldest homes in Great Britain. A brawny young man of Canada dressed in rough tweeds was present at this sale and when an English refectory table was offered for sale he put in the first bid. Other bidders appeared, but they did not have a chance. The Canadian got it for five hundred dollars.

He approached the table and said: "I am the youngest son of the family selling this table. I sat at it many times as a youth and it is going back to Canada with me."—Wall Street Journal.

Pleasure for Many.

The "botanical ascents" of Mount Katahdin by an American investigator suggested the possibilities of intellectual entertainment and agreeable acquaintance with nature that are offered by easily ascended mountains.

Not only the person having some knowledge of botany enjoys this rapid change of surroundings, but a similar pleasure is in store for the geologist, who sometimes finds that a mountain is like a prepared section of a part of the earth's crust; for the entomologist, who discovers different insects at the top from those that inhabit the lower slopes; for the ornithologist, who finds that birds have preferences as to elevation, and in fact for all students of nature.—New York Herald.

Jazzed Ice Cream.

A newly patented invention is "aerated ice cream." It is, however, more accurately described as just the opposite, the air contained in the mixture being withdrawn from it by a vacuum pump, after which carbonic acid gas is forced in under pressure. It is then frozen, and has the same sort of "bite" as that which makes fresh soda water so agreeable to the palate.—Milwaukee Sentinel.

Two-Sided.

Mr. Goode—My wife prefers tea for breakfast, while I prefer coffee.

His Friend—Then I suppose it is necessary to have both?

"Oh, no! We compromise; we have tea."—Answers.

MORTGAGEE'S SALE OF REAL ESTATE
By virtue of a power of sale contained in a certain mortgage deed, bearing date the 1st day of July, 1922, and recorded in the Registry of Deeds for the County of Middlesex, South District, Book 497, Page 364, and by said Litchfield assigned to Carl E. Carlson by instrument dated May 29, 1922, duly recorded, for breach of the condition contained in said mortgage and for the purpose of foreclosing the same, will be sold at public auction, on the premises on Monday the 31st day of July, 1922, at two o'clock in the afternoon, all and singular the premises conveyed by said mortgage deed, namely: a certain lot of land, bounded northeasterly by Douglas Street about two hundred and ninety-four (294) feet; southeasterly by land of Myrtle Baptist Church, Weeks, Allen and Moore about two hundred and twenty-nine and 49/100 (229.49) feet; southeasterly by land of Clark one hundred and sixty-seven and 90/100 (167.90) feet; southeasterly by land of Clark one hundred and 60/100 (160.60) feet; northerly by land of Clark (running southeasterly) seventy-eight and 74/100 (78.74) feet; southeasterly by land of Farrell thirty and 43/100 (30.43) feet; southerly by land of Hoy about two hundred (200) feet; northwesterly by land now or formerly of Patterson, Lackey, Needham and Hargadon about six hundred and thirty-five (635) feet. The above premises are the same as shown in Plan of Land in West Newton, Mass., belonging to Martha M. Atkins, dated November 1898, H. O. Hunter, Civil Engineer, excepting lots numbered 2, 3, and 7 on said plan, and excepting land taken by the City of Newton, if any.

Being the same premises conveyed by mortgage to mortgagee by deed of even date to be recorded.

The mortgagee agrees that at any time while this mortgage remains in force that she will release to mortgagee or his assigns any part of said premises lying within eighty feet of Douglas Street from this mortgage on payment to her of six cents per square foot, and any part of said premises lying between eighty feet and one hundred and twelve feet from said Douglas Street on payment of five cents per square foot, and any other part of said premises on payment of three cents per square foot, said payments to apply on the principal of the mortgage.

Meaning and intending to sell all of the above-described premises at said foreclosure sale with the exception of that part thereof which has been released by said Cordelia A. Litchfield by instruments recorded in said Middlesex Registry of Deeds, South District, as follows:—Book 4175, page 593; book 4205, page 564; book 4205, page 593; book 4237, page 597; book 4237, page 598; book 4332, page 571, and book 4379, page 433.

$200. will be required to be paid in cash by the purchaser at the time and place of sale.

Greatness and Lowliness.

It is dangerous to show man too plainly how like he is to the animals, without, at the same time, reminding him of his greatness. It is equally unwise to impress him with his greatness and not with his lowliness. It is worse to leave him in ignorance of both. But it is very profitable to recognize the two facts.—Pascal.

THE WALTHAM TRUST COMPANY WILL HELP YOU OWN YOUR HOME

A large percentage of the people's savings which formerly went into the Savings Institutions of the State is now being deposited in the Savings Departments of Trust Companies and this change of investments has caused a shortage of funds for building purposes.

Recognizing this condition and in order to enable the citizens of Waltham and nearby villages to build, purchase and own their own homes, the WALTHAM TRUST COMPANY has appropriated for this purpose $500,000.

This fund will be loaned, subject to the approval of the Board of Directors, for the construction of homes in Waltham, Newton and vicinity.

The advantages of this plan are particularly attractive because it gives you a long time mortgage and the opportunity to pay the loan on easy terms, making the monthly payments the same as rent.

Amount of Loan—Not exceeding 80 per cent. of the value of the building, provided the land is free and clear.

Payments—Monthly payments of one per cent. of original principal, such payment to be applied as payment of interest and the balance as payment on principal. The payment on principal will be credited on original loan annually and interest reduced each year.

Division of Labor.

In the upper Amazon there is an interesting tribe, which, in its division of work, is reminiscent of the guilds of the Middle Ages. One portion makes clothing and nothing else; another one is purely agricultural; another devotes its time and labor to the construction of weapons, and so on. Their pottery, however, is the most notable of their productions. Some of these jars are extremely large but very thin, although strong and durable. Some of the smaller vessels are almost as thin as paper.

Woman's Guarded Way.

A neighbor woman's idea of a guarded statement is to tell something about somebody with a wealth of damning detail and then say she merely heard it rumored.—Ohio State Journal.

OWES MUCH TO JOHN MUIR

Famous Naturalist Tells of Determining Influence at the Outset of His Career.

Enos A. Mills, the nature guide and author, who through his books on the wild life of the Rockies has done more than any other man in the West to bring nature and human kind together, tells what was the determining influence of his career. This was a chance meeting with John Muir. Mr. Mills, then a frail nineteen-year-old boy, whose poor health had led him to live much in the open, was wandering one day over the hot sand hills of a beach near San Francisco.

"I had picked up a strange sort of weed," he says, "and was puzzling about it. Always it was my desire to ask questions about the things of the outdoors which I did not understand. I saw an old man approaching. He looked kindly and intelligent, and I asked him about the weed. He told me all about it in language which fascinated me. In turn, he began to question me.

"We walked back to San Francisco together over the sand dunes, and he asked me more questions about myself and my work and ambitions, and advised me to study nature at every opportunity and to learn to write and speak of what I saw. The stranger was John Muir. His advice gave me something definite to work toward.

"I owe everything to him. If it hadn't been for him I would have been a mere gypsy. He told me to systematize my knowledge and that then I would be able to write."—The Book Leaf.

HAD TO JOIN THE PARADE

Colored Taxicab Driver Was There, But Couldn't Be Said to Have Enjoyed It.

There was a Ku Klux Klan parade over in Virginia recently in which some colored men took an active and wholly unasked-for part. Colored people like parades, but, judging from the story of that colored taxicab driver, that is still one kind of parade they will willingly miss.

This driver was approached on the street by a group of well-dressed men, who hired him to take them over into Virginia. The car went over the streets, and over the roads, and into the country.

After awhile the cars seemed to thicken. More and more cars were encountered. At last the taxi came to a fork in the road. Ahead was a bright light. The cars contained the strangest-looking persons, all garbed in white robes, with long pointed hats.

"Boss," exclaimed the colored driver, looking ahead at the figures, "I guess I can't take 'em no farther tonight. Look at dem Ku Klux!"

Turning around to personally protest to his fares, his eyes were greeted by the sight of ten eyes peering at him from behind white cloth, while the white gowns seemed to fill the entire car.

The fares had quickly slipped on robes, and were all ready to participate in the parade. Much against his will, the colored taxi man was prevailed upon to continue, and thus became a participant in the parade.—Washington Star.

Measured Waterspouts.

It is rarely that an opportunity occurs to make a truly scientific observation of a waterspout. Yet an engineer on board an American schooner had what is said to be a unique experience of this kind off the coast of New South Wales.

Fourteen complete waterspouts formed off the shore where he was at work with a theodolite, and he made careful measurements of them.

The largest spout consisted of two cones, connected by a pipe-shaped spout. The top of the upper cone, which was inverted, was 5,014 feet above the sea. Each cone was about 100 feet in diameter at the base, diminishing gradually until it merged into the spout. The length of the cones was about 250 feet each, leaving 4,500 feet for the length of the spout connecting them.—New York Herald.

From Great Imaginations.

"The four greatest inventions of an earlier period were all made without the modern aids to scientific discovery, but by men gifted with a disciplined imagination," said Dr. Frederick L. Hoffman of Newark, N. J., vice-president of the American Association for the Advancement of Science, in his address as chairman of the section on economic and social science at the association's Toronto meeting. He went on: "Printing, gunpowder, steam and compass did more to change the face of the world and the fortunes of mankind than electricity, wireless telegraphy, motion pictures and the graphophone."

Owens 17,000,000 Sheep!

Here's a man who owns 17,000,000 head of sheep. He is David Clark, now touring Canada. His live stock is scattered about his many ranches in Australia, where he is known as "the sheep king." This year he expects to ship 75,000 bales of wool to market.

"Do you go in for cattle raising, too?" Clark is asked.

"Not to any extent," says he. "I have only 14,000 head of cattle."

Clark has achieved real success—close to the soil.

The things we do in the cities are interesting, but not fundamentally important. Few city men live as worthily as lives as Isak, the pioneer farmer in Knut Hamsun's "Growth of the Soil."

BEAVERS BUILD GREAT DAM

Engineering Feat Stopped the Flow of the Yakima River and Led to Investigation.

A large number of beavers have executed an extraordinary engineering feat in the Cascade mountains, 40 miles from here, by building a dam 12 feet high and over a quarter of a mile in length, according to deputy game wardens who have been seeking the cause of a reduced flow of water in Yakima river, says an Ellensburg (Wash.) dispatch to the New York World.

Seven beaver houses at the center of the dam are of elephantine proportions, one is 15 feet high and 30 feet across at the bottom. They are unusually spacious for beaver homes, but according to Indians were made so tall because of floods which were sure to come in the spring flow. Evidently the beavers were looking for the long, cold winter—being experienced in the Northwest—as large quantities of green wood for food were found in or near the houses.

In building the great dam the ingenuity of the most intelligent of the animals was taxed, for logs over a foot thick were carefully balanced between two large rocks for the middle or point of greatest pressure of the structure.

Not much water was held in by this log and rock wall, but in freshest season two months hence an enormous amount would be impounded. So great a menace did this huge dam present that the state commissioner of game gave the district game warden permission to destroy the colony. Over 200 beavers of all sizes were trapped and the pelts sold at auction.

Under the protective laws beaver in all parts of the Northwest multiply rapidly, their dams often disturbing the proper flow of water feeding irrigation canals.

NO MORE NOCTURNAL SHAVING

Small Piece of Soap in Each Hot-Water Jug Seemed to Have Discouraging Effect.

Ralph A. Day, the new federal prohibition director for New York, said at a luncheon:

"Prohibition would be more real and genuine if our New York hotel men were like the Vermonters. They are not exactly like him, I'm afraid.

"A Vermont man at a hotel, and he ran it on temperance lines, too. Well, this temperate Vermont man saw a waiter of his one Saturday night after the movies had closed, hurrying upstairs with a tray full of jugs of hot water.

"What's all that hot water for?" he asked the waiter suspiciously.

"For shavin' sir," said the waiter. "Practically every gent in the house has ordered a jug of shavin' water, sir."

"Wait a bit, then," said the hotel man, "I'll put a piece of shaving soap in each of the jugs."

"After that nobody seemed to want any more nocturnal shaves in the good Vermonters' hotel."

Made Seafarers Laugh.

Scientists of Massachusetts believe that if the expedition into western Patagonia results in the discovery of a plesiosaurus it will clear up the identity of a submarine creature, with a periscope neck reaching far above the water, which was found dead in Mill creek, near Hyannis, in the summer of 1897.

Cape Cod folks who saw the strange "sea giraffe" in the creek believe it was a young plesiosaurus which became frozen in polar ice at some remote period, drifted down the coast in an iceberg and finally brought up in Mill creek.

The bones of the supposed sea serpent were taken to the United States fisheries station at Woods Hole. Later Cape Cod inquirers were told that the creature was some kind of a shark. "Whoever heard of a fish having a neck?" was the caustic comment of old seafarers.

Where Brides Must Be Cooks.

Burgomaster Rimmel of Neu-Ulm, a town in Bavaria, has earned a widespread fame by refusing to marry a couple appearing before him, according to the Referee, England, for the reason definitely indicated in a short speech:

"I will not marry this pair because the bride cannot cook and possesses no knowledge of housekeeping."

In addition he publicly admonished all eligible maidens to qualify at a school of domestic science, and likewise caused to be published in the local press a notice to the following effect:

"Being a registered official, as from today I refuse to marry any woman who cannot prove to my satisfaction that she can cook and keep house."

Use of Cosmetics in China.

An increasing demand for well-advertised, cheap grades of cosmetics exists in China. Care of the hair, complexion, teeth, and finger nails is given careful attention almost universally among Chinese women, and native preparations are gradually giving way to imported articles. Highly perfumed toilet waters for the hair are imported and are being demanded by many instead of the native compounds. Inferior face cream and powder are giving way to imported articles. Tooth paste is gaining popularity, though the use of tooth brushes has long been established. Ordinary preparations for the finger nails are also in demand. Imported soaps in increasing quantities are rapidly replacing native brands.

Ask These of Yourself—
Then ACT!

Am I a Success?

Am I saving Money?

Do I have any more today than I had today a year ago?

Have I the thrift habit, or am I a Spendthrift?

Is it possible for me to save in small quantities?

If you must admit to yourself that you are NOT saving—We will answer the last question for you by saying—You Can Save if you WILL.

She Has!

"Before I married," said the middle-aged man, "I was terribly extravagant. I went to theaters and dances all the time, smoked cigars, drank champagne. But now—well, I live a quiet life at home, smoke a pipe and drink water." "What a strong will it must need to change like that," said the young bachelor. "She has a very strong will," replied the married man.—Chicago American.

ST. JAMES THEATRE—By arrangement with one of the larger film concerns, who are to feature Montague Love, the management of the St. James Theatre is to extend the engagement of Mr. Love, who is scoring a tremendous success in the spoken drama, "Bought and Paid For". This coming week will positively be the last personal appearance of Mr. Love for some time to come. The role of Robert Stafford in "Bought and Paid For" is one which Mr. Love is especially adapted for. This coming week will be the closing one for the St. James Theatre after one of the most successful seasons ever enjoyed by a Boston theatre. The Boston Stock Company, whose season terminated with "Slippy McGee" is to open the theatre on August 28th for their second season. Practically every member of the company will be seen in the opening bill which will be announced at a later date.

SHOWS VALUE OF EDUCATION

Bulletin issued by Wisconsin Institution Gives Some Facts That Are Worth Consideration.

The Wisconsin Educational News Bulletin gives the following advantages of education:

It is a financial investment that yields the highest dividends.

It results in safe and sane citizenship.

It increases the ability and desire to serve others.

It adds to the appreciation and happiness of life.

It multiplies the chances of success in life.

With no schooling the child has only one chance in 150,000 of rendering distinguished service.

With elementary schooling the child has four times the chance of the one without it.

With a high-school education, he has 87 times the chance.

With a college education he has 700 times the chance.

Fewer than 1 per cent of Americans are college graduates, yet this 1 per cent has furnished:

Fifty-five per cent of our Presidents.

Fifty-four per cent of our vice-presidents.

Forty-seven per cent of our speakers of the house.

Thirty-six per cent of our members of congress.

Sixty-one per cent of our secretaries of state.

Sixty-seven per cent of our attorneys general.

Sixty-nine per cent of our justices of the Supreme court.

COMING WRITER OF FICTION

Little Jimmie Shows Promise of Rising to Eminence in the Realm of Imagination.

Jimmie, four years old, is going to write fiction, if his maturity bears out the promise of his youth.

James has not since learned the value of sticking close to facts.

He and his small sister were visiting a friend the other day. The young woman had some fine roses in a vase and was very proud of them.

"See my big roses," she exclaimed.

"We have nicer roses than that," said little sister, by way of preliminary.

"I don't think they are so big," said Jimmie.

"We have some at home as big as a house."

Just then the young woman's father came in.

"How much do you weigh, Jimmie?" he asked.

"A hundred pounds," replied Jimmie, instantly.

"That's a pretty good weight for such a young fellow," the man said, with a smile.

"You see, I weigh 500 pounds, myself."

"I weigh 1,000 pounds."

"Well, I weigh a million trillion pounds."

Jimmie smiled.

"I weigh all the words and numbers in the world," he said.—Washington Star.

Liquid Air for Cracking Nuts.

Liquid air for cracking nuts is the latest application of science. Experts of the national bureau of standards were appealed to for a method of breaking the shells of the chichia nuts, without damaging the kernels. They found that it took a weight of nearly a ton to crack the nuts, and that after that effort the meat of the nut was broken in many small pieces.

Then they applied liquid air to the problem. They did not freeze solid a piece of rubber and use it for a hammer, as is done in the classic stunt of physics classes, but they simply immersed the nuts in liquid air for 30 seconds and cracked them easily, without damaging the kernels. Now the physicists are trying to find out whether this method can be applied commercially on a large scale.

Chichia nuts are grown in South America. Their dense strong shells were used during the war to make charcoal for gas masks and the oil from the kernels is a valuable food, similar to copra.—Science Service.

Neon.

For 20 years neon gas has been an almost useless curiosity in the chemist's laboratory.

Now it will be put to work, in an improved spark detector for autoists, says a bulletin of American Chemical society.

Every discovery made by man has potential usefulness, though it may be useless when discovered and for years following.

The English theory doesn't seem to be important in the average man's life. It isn't now. Future will use it constantly. For it's the beginning of man's thinking in four dimensions instead of three.

Hard-Luck Guy.

Because he was tired of having his residence used as a garage for runaway automobiles, C. W. Peterson of Davenport, Ia., has appealed to the city for permission to erect a concrete abutment in front of his home. Six automobiles backed down the hill into Peterson's front door last year. Recently a truck dealer dumped a stock of vegetables into the parlor and a moving van entered the house.

"Keeping Tab" on Health.

A daily record sheet of health habits is kept for every pupil in the schools of Washington, D. C. The record is kept on the basis of the teacher's daily inspection and is sent home with the report card to be signed by the parent and returned.

FLASHLIGHTS START BEE WAR

Naturalist in Charge of Honeymakers Consequently Has Her Opinion Concerning Photographers.

"It," said Miss Lucile B. Berg, naturalist, dabbling baking soda on a half score red bumps on hand and wrist, "there is one thing a law-abiding, industrious honey bee loathes, it's a photographer."

"How come?" inquired an inquirer, lifting polite eyebrows.

"Flashlights," said Miss Berg, emphatically. And it was flashlights that started a carnival of self-arranged slaughter and sent two or three hundred children and their mothers and teachers milling around a great glass cage in a loop department store. Inside the "showcase" was a glass beehive and a swarm of sure-enough bees.

The swarm belongs to the Society for Visual Education and is part of a nature exhibit installed in the store. It was brought from the Evanston studio of the society by Miss Berg.

The buzzers were lured from their winter coma by warmth and food and set to work making honey in the glass cage for the instruction of public school pupils. Photographers taking pictures of the exhibit aroused the swarm and hundreds began fighting. The colony broke up into pairs which lashed and clawed and stung until scores lay dead on the floor.

While the excited insects were emerging from the hive Miss Berk opened a little door in the outer cage and sought to close the entrance. In an instant her hand and wrist were covered with angry bees which drove their daggers into her flesh.

Children and mothers and teachers danced about squeaking warnings. Miss Berg finally abandoned her effort and the bees fought until exhausted.—Chicago Daily News.

SUPPLY OF POTASH ASSURED

Enough in Green Sand of New Jersey to Satisfy American Farmers for Ten Centuries.

Right at our door and until a few months ago quite unsuspected, lies enough potash to supply the needs of every American farmer for a thousand years. It is the famous green sand of New Jersey—millions upon millions of tons of which are found in that state alone and running all the way down as far as Virginia.

The Scientific American relates that half a century ago local farmers used it as a fertilizer, but for some reason abandoned it. Now its value has been recognized again and a big factory is being built at New Brunswick, N. J., for turning the green sand into pure potash.

At a recent meeting of the American Chemical society R. Norris Shreve read a paper in which he described the process. This involves treating the green sand with milk of lime at about 470 degrees F. for one hour. Caustic potash is the initial result, but this is easily changed into other potash compounds. Potassium nitrate is shown to be the best form in which to produce the green sand potash for the fertilizer industry, for in it are united two of the most essential fertilizing elements—nitrogen and potash.—New York World.

Rare Occasion.

Very few people could say off-hand the occasion when a king of England "gave away" his daughter in marriage, writes an English correspondent. As a fact, authorities are quite hazy about it. But this is certain, that the last reigning king of England to have a daughter married goes beyond recollection; for it was neither Edward VII, of course, nor George IV., both being, in turn, prince of Wales when their respective daughters were married. The last instance, then, was that of George III., who came to the throne 1760 and died 1820. His eldest daughter was married in 1797, the third in 1818, the fourth in 1816. The case, however, of any only daughter goes back to Henry I., in the Eleventh century. His only daughter Matilda married Henry V., emperor of the West, when her father had been four years king of England.

Starting Early.

Johnnie, a Columbus youngster, had only four candles on his last birthday cake, but he is already well versed in legal procedure. Being in need of having one of his teeth extracted he was taken to the office of a dentist. When perched in the chair he decided that he did not wish to part company with his ailing tooth and could not be persuaded to open his mouth. With consummate skill the doctor distracted his attention and made him gape with wonder at a fabricated tale. In went the forceps and out came the tooth before Johnnie realized it. The boy did not say a word until he started to leave the office, when he turned on the surprised doctor and said seriously: "Blame you, doctor, I have a good mind to prosecute you for this!"—Indianapolis News.

Eagles Dislike Airplanes.

Eagles are very jealous of the airplane's rivalry to their age-long monarchy of the air. One pilot, recently flying down over Scotland toward England, suddenly saw an eagle make a ferocious swoop at him. It dashed right into the whirling propeller and broke one of the blades, forcing the pilot to make an awkward landing in an unsuitable country. Another eagle after wheeling around a monoplane evidently seeking for a vulnerable spot, flew down directly at the pilot in his cockpit. Luckily he had a pistol close at hand, and drove away the bird with a succession of shots.

CAN MAP ROCKS FROM AIR

Aviator's Co-Operation With Geologist Is Lucky to Prove of Enormous Value Commercially.

The geologist of the future may use the airplane in searching for minerals in unprospected country. At the meeting of the Canadian Institute of Mining and Metallurgy in Ottawa, E. L. Bruce declared that he is enthusiastic over the possibilities of airplane mapping and that on a trial flight he had been able to recognize easily the most striking geological formations.

"From the air it is possible to tell various areas by their color and by the general surface features that are characteristic of sections of country underlain by different types of rock," he said. "Granite can be distinguished from those rocks which are more favorable to the occurrence of economic minerals. Use of airplanes will relieve the geologist of a vast amount of work and would save a large part of his time. Areas of granite which are not important economically, and those areas of deep glacial cover where no rocks are exposed could be eliminated. It would thus free him for the exploration of the areas of promising rocks, and extend the field covered by each season's operations. It would, moreover, give him an idea of the most advantageous points for inland traverses and would show him the position of inland lakes which might be of use to him in fixing the boundaries of formations."

RUN BY MECHANICAL PILOT

Experiment Recently Made in England Declared to Have Been an Enthusiastic Success.

A writer in the London Mail describes how a mechanical air pilot, the first to be fitted to an air express flying regularly on the cross-channel airway, was demonstrated at the London air station, Croydon.

A giant twin-engine Farman Goliath air express used by the Messageries Aeriennes on their service between London and Paris has been equipped with this latest device for fighting fog, and a Daily Mail representative ascended in this machine with 12 other passengers, and, standing beside the pilot, watched the wonderful mechanical brain in operation.

After climbing to a height of about 1,000 feet, the pilot removed his hands and feet from the controls, and, leaning back in his seat, hands in pockets, let the mechanical pilot take charge. For half an hour the airplane, although traveling at a speed of about 80 miles an hour, flew so steadily the passengers had no sensation of movement, the automobile pilot correcting each movement of the machine before it became perceptible to the human brain.

"Quicksilver operating electrically a compressed air motor, which obtains its power from the rush of wind as the airplane travels through the air, is the prime factor of this invention," said Mr. George Aveline, the inventor.

New African Coal Fields.

New coal fields have been discovered in Zambesi, Africa, and a series of tests which have been made have proved eminently satisfactory. The tests were carried out by a Belgian engineer, on the Beira and Mashonaland railways, at the municipal power station, Beira, and at the harbor by the port dredger, and in all instances the results were excellent, the coal showing satisfactory calorific value, burning with a clear, bright flame, and leaving very little ash. The success of the tests and the fact that the developments show many millions of tons ready to be mined, while the measures probably reach to within four miles of the Zambesi, indicate that a great coal field lies within a comparatively few miles of Beira. The tremendous importance of these fields to the port of Beira, assuring the success of the Trans-Zambesi, railway with which they will ultimately be joined up by rail, can hardly be over-estimated.

Very Like It.

"What's the charge?" demanded "Squire Ramsbottom of Petunia." "Littering," replied Constable Slackpitter, the arresting officer. "Your honor," spoke up the offending motorist. "I was merely cranking my flyver, and—"

"Yes, and I timed you at it," interrupted the guardian of the peace and dignity of the community. "You kept at it 34 minutes, and didn't 'pear to be any nearer through than when you began. And if that wasn't littering I'd like to know what it was!"

—Kansas City Star.

New Tree Introduced.

There is being grown in Texas a tree new in this country, the Japanese tallow tree.

Trees of this species bear nuts, containing a rich tallowlike oil that has been found valuable in the manufacture of high-grade varnishes.

The climatic and soil conditions in certain parts of Texas are well adapted to the growth of this curious tree, and the experimental gardens have been supplying farmers throughout the lower Rio Grande valley with young trees. —New York Herald.

Foods in Storage.

On February 1, this year, there were 4,303,615 barrels of apples in cold storage, according to the Department of Agriculture.

Other holdings were: Butter, 36,000,000 pounds; cheese, 33,000,000 pounds; frozen poultry, 108,000,000 pounds; meats, frozen and cured, 620,953,956 pounds; lard, 60,000,000 pounds.

Mr. and Mrs. Reader

Did you ever stop to think that this newspaper is YOUR newspaper? Well, it is!

The editor and all his force are working for YOU.

They want to build the kind of a paper that YOU want.

Why not help them?

What kind of news do YOU like?

What feature in the paper interests YOU most?

What features don't YOU like?

These are simple questions, but they are BIG questions with the editor.

He is spending his time and money every day and every week to make this newspaper the kind of a paper that YOU want in your home.

Why not co-operate?

If something in the paper pleases YOU, tell the editor.

If there are articles that don't interest YOU, tell him, too, and tell him why.

No two communities are alike. The editor is all the time studying his town and his people.

A word from YOU now and then would help wonderfully.

If YOU have any suggestions send them in.

This is YOUR paper. Let's make it the best paper of any community in the State.

NORUMBEGA PARK

Probably the most elaborate musical shows that have ever been presented in the theatre at Norumbega Park are to be given during the coming week by Phil Ott and a company of 20 fun-makers. Phil is perhaps the best known of this famous family of comedians and his aggregation includes, as far as the principals are concerned, some people who are exceptionally well known on American burlesque stage, while the chorus is a carefully selected and trained one. One strong point regarding the production is the elaborate and up-to-date wardrobe. Two musical comedies will be given during the week, the bill being changed on Thursday, while at each performance films will be unrolled. All Ott shows stress the point that they provide amusement of the clean sort, to which the entire family may listen. Special concerts are given in the theatre each Sunday. Dancing in the restaurant is a popular pastime for summer nights, as is canoeing. Twilight baseball is presented each Friday afternoon and Miss Lunette's aerial slide is still being given twice a day as a free attraction.

LEGION TEAMS IN THE GAME

Newton Post 48, American Legion, baseball team, Tuesday evening played a 0 to 0 game with the Providence Independents. Darkness caused the game to be called in the sixth. After Hunt of the Legion had allowed the Providence team but two hits, and Greenhall of the visitors had allowed the Legion team the same number. James Hanney of Waltham, who was signed up by the St. Louis Nationals and later played in Texas, was in centre field for the Newton team.

ground, several games will be explained and practiced and a lecture on psychology of play will be given. Anybody interested in these meetings are cordially invited to be present.

Many things have already been constructed by the children and if they are not busy with the more active games their little hands are busy with fashionable things.

The first week of the different schedule of games is well advanced and it seems as if there are a number of splendid teams already in operation.

The bathing places are crowded. Every one of the places is reasonably guarded by instructors and guards. Parents should familiarize themselves with these swimming places which are under careful supervision. Youngsters should not be at bathing places when guards are not present.

A set of new swings and teeters, etc., construction, have arrived and will be put into place during the coming week, to replace some of the wooden structures which are worn out.

At Thompsonville a special arrangement has been made with the authorities of the Newton Theological Institute, whereby their baseball diamond can be used by the boys of that district. A young man of the playground department will always be in charge of the play on this diamond.

The boys of this district should appreciate this courtesy from the institute and not violate the confidence placed in them by using other parts of the institution.

The game of fist-ball has gradually taken a strong hold upon the youths of Newton. It is a splendid team game and like tennis offers opportunity for scientific people. It is a game well liked by adults and the adult population interested in taking up outdoor games should get in touch with the local directors who instruct to help them learn the game.

A group of about 5,000 witnessed the game of the American Legion on the West Newton Common last Tuesday evening. It is estimated about 1,000 automobiles surrounded the playground, parking on the nearby streets.

The handling of the traffic by the Police Department was excellent. These gatherings have become a great problem and it seems that they can only be met by an enclosed athletic field which can control the crowd thoroughly.

A Band Concert and Dancing on the Grand scheduled for July 13th on the West Newton Playground came off in spite of a heavy shower just previous to the time set for the concert. It seemed that they would hardly be a crowd by quarter to nine. It was estimated that 2,000 people were there. The dancing platform was crowded every dance.

BEAUTIFUL DRIVES IN AND ABOUT NEWTON

On the left was the Peabody Home for Crippled Children on its grand location overlooking the world. At one of the farms we stopped to inquire about early vegetables, and found plenty of currants and celery plants waiting for us, so after a rest we started again and soon drove over the Newton line into Boston and came to West Roxbury.

It seemed very exciting there, and the electric cars marked "Jamaica" brought us into the world again.

Here we found the Samoset Canoe Club, and the winding river had a gay aspect with many canoes afloat.

It was difficult to realize that we were near Boston, coming as we did through such quiet country.

Turning towards home we took the Needham road, and were soon in the woods again. Great Plain avenue brought us to the quiet, lovely little town of Needham with its uncommonly handsome Town Hall, and busy stores and shops. On to Needham Heights where we passed the Carter Mills, and the pretty little Town Library, and straight on through what is called Poland, we swiftly drove, and again we came to the Water Works, at the Charles River Bridge.

This time we kept on to Newton Highlands. In the distance, on Baptist Hill, we saw the buildings of the Theological Seminary which are world renowned. On the left was Crystal Lake, and crossing the bridge we came in to Newton Centre.

The new Woman's Club House makes a fine promise of a very grand and imposing building worthy of its accompanying surroundings, and best of all we saw the new monument which was all ready to be dedicated July Fourth. It was still draped, but with its handsome great flagpole was well worth seeing and we circled the Park to read the bronze tablet in front of the S. F. Smith house.

Coming on towards home we had a lovely sunset along Commonwealth avenue, and in enumerating all we had seen we were convinced that nowhere else in this country could we have found a more instructive or beautiful drive.

We had fairly good roads all the way, and visited eight different towns, Auburndale, Waban, Newton Upper Falls, West Roxbury, Needham, Needham Heights, Newton Highlands and Newton Centre.

Ravages of the Gypsy Moth.

The gypsy moth was introduced in this country at Medford, Mass., in 1869, in connection with some experiments in hybridizing silkworms. A few specimens escaped, and about 20 years later the insect had become a serious pest. Between 1890 and 1900 the state of Massachusetts spent about $1,000,000 in combating the insect, which became scarce temporarily, but speedily resumed its depredations when the campaign against it was discontinued.

Necessary Governmental Power.

When respect for law is not voluntary it must be compulsory, else government fall of its purpose. This statement involves no policy, rather reflects necessity. That's why government is given power to protect itself, and employs that power when compelled.

DEATH OF B. FRANK WOOD

Mr. B. Frank Wood, president of the B. F. Wood Music Company of Boston, died at his home on Waverley avenue, on Thursday, after a long illness. He is survived by his two sisters, Mrs. Harriet W. Robinson of Newton and Mrs. S. Addie Fowle of Auburn, Me.

Mr. Wood was born in Lewiston, Me., March 27, 1849. He studied at the New England Conservatory of Music and later became a teacher of piano and organ in his home city. For many years he was organist and choir director at the High Street Congregational Church in Auburn and at St. Joseph's Church, Lewiston.

In 1893 he organized the B. F. Wood Music Company of Boston which has since developed branches in New York and London. He was a member of the Boston Art Club, the Boston City Club and a charter member of the Boston Chamber of Commerce.

Funeral services, conducted by the Rev. Samuel Woodrow of Newton Highlands were held this afternoon at his late residence and burial will be on Saturday in the family lot at Lewiston, Maine.

FUNERAL OF MRS. MARTHA L. ROGERS

Funeral services for Mrs. Martha L. Rogers, widow of the late Jesse R. Rogers, formerly of Stoughton, but of late years a resident of Newtonville, were held at the family lot in Evergreen Cemetery, Stoughton, Mass., Sunday afternoon, at 3 o'clock. The services were conducted by Rev. A. Edward Martin, pastor of the Congregational Church, where the deceased was an active worker for many years. There were many beautiful floral tributes.

Mrs. Rogers passed away following a serious operation on Thursday, in a hospital in Detroit, Michigan, being on a visit in that city. She leaves one son, Harry R. Rogers, who is tenor soloist at the Church of the New Jerusalem in Newtonville; also two grandchildren, Kenneth W. and Richard E. Rogers.

CAMP FRANK A. DAY

Best season Since Opening Seven Years Ago
Record Attendance

With a record enrollment of ninety-four, including the leaders, Camp Day is in the midst of the best season it has experienced since it was opened seven years ago. With the half-way mark just past the leaders and boys are wondering where the time has gone, and hoping that the last four weeks will not go as quickly as the first four have. The camp activities have provided so many things for every fellow to do that the days seem hardly long enough to get in the tennis, base ball, basket ball, swimming, and boating that fill the heart of every boy with such delight.

The Council is composed of a number of last year's leaders and several valuable additions, chief among these being "Jake" Stafford of Newton High School football fame, and "Bordie" Adams, captain of the Williams Cross Country team. The kitchen is well manned with Mr. George Conroy of T. D. Cook & Co. as the chef, and meal time is one of the most joyous times at Camp Day.

The hikes and canoe trips have proved to be the feature of the season so far, although the big circus last Saturday marked a high light in the summer's activities. "Doc" Doubleday, Boys' Secretary at the Newton "Y" ran the circus off in splendid style, with the clowns, acrobats, animals, and side shows providing many thrills and much laughter for the boys and the parents who were visiting the camp for the afternoon. "Jack" and "Cutie" in a tumbling act were especially fine. In the evening an Indian Pageant, "How Men Found the Great Spirit," was presented under the direction of Mr. Elder, one of the leaders, and a teaching-fellow in the Harvard Graduate School.

On Sunday, July 23rd, the camp was fortunate in having Rev. Alden H. Clark of the American Board, as the Chapel speaker. Mr. Kepner, Chairman of the Camp Committee was also present and inspected the camp. Sundays at Camp Day are visitor's days, and the parents and friends of the campers are always welcome.

During the past week the equipment of the camp has been increased by the building of a new wood-working shop and garage and the construction of a second tennis court. The camp is now making plans for the erection of a library and boat house on the shore of the lake. This building will aid the "rainy day" activities of the camp a very great deal, beside providing a place where the boats and canoes may be stored.

The Camp Director invites any Newton parents who are interested in a well-equipped camp run for solely altruistic purposes to visit Camp Day, and express their opinion of it.

Starting from the station at Auburn-dale take Grove street, pass Lasell Seminary with its handsome grounds. At the present time the buildings are occupied by the Normal Training School for Music. The Seminary is on the left and a little farther along on the right is the Walker Missionary Home, a beautiful brick Old English building. This is a home for retired missionaries and for their children who are being educated in this country. Passing straight on under the railroad bridge of the B. & A. Circuit Road, we soon come, over a steep hill, to Newton Lower Falls. This is a pretty little manufacturing village with a wide dam in the Charles River. There is little here of importance except the old St. Mary's Church (Episcopal) which celebrated its 100th anniversary sometime since. With its adjoining churchyard it has the appearance of an English "Kirk" where "the rude forefathers of the parish sleep."

Newton Lower Falls was one of the earliest villages to be settled in Newton. It had the first post-office, and all the surrounding country came here for mail. This was largely because of the paper mills which were here at an early date.

Taking a sharp turn to the right from Grove street, we cross the river and the railroad at the Lower Falls station, pass the handsome Catholic Church, and turn again to the right taking Glen Road. On the right we pass the beautiful Iris Gardens of the Iris Lady and a lovely water course, and then we come to a country drive for a long distance and by taking one of the many roads we may make it as long or short as desired. All the roads lead towards Weston, one comes to South street and so back to the Weston Bridge at Riverside. Another leads to the centre of Weston, with its handsome church and Town Hall which is a model of its kind. Also its beautiful Public library.

From Weston there are many ways to go. One comes back down to Auburn-dale straight away. One goes towards Waltham and taking a sharp right comes down by the Cambridge Reservoir and to Roberts Station. It is pleasant to leave the car at the Reservoir and walk across the dam and admire the quiet lake and the high fall of water. From the Reservoir a road leads back to Riverside bridge or continuing on a little ways, we come to the Norumbega Tower, a favorite visiting place. Then on to Riverside. Or by turning to the left at the Reservoir, the road leads into Waltham and from Waltham by several roads back to Lexington street and Auburn-dale.

This is the second drive. It includes Newton Lower Falls, a small part of Wellesley, Weston, and Waltham, taking a circuit drive and occupying about one hour.

Sponge Fisheries.

There are large sponge fisheries along the shores of Greece, certain parts of the Adriatic sea, as well as on the coasts of Tripoli and Tunis; but the world's best sponges come from Syria. In the well-equipped fisheries the divers go down into the sea for the sponges, dressed in cork jackets, or by means of diving bells; but, in many places they descend from boats, to pull the sponges from the rocks; for as long a time as they can remain under water. Long tridents are sometimes used to dislodge the sponges, but this practice is apt to tear the soft structures and injure them. Hand picking is the usual method. After being gathered, the sponges are well beaten and washed, to rid them of the black coating and jelly-like substance which cling to them. Finally, they are bleached, graded, packed, and shipped to all parts of the world.

CHAMBER OF COMMERCE

The membership of the Newton Chamber of Commerce is being consistently developed in all sections of the city and now exceeds six hundred and fifty. Substantial additions have recently been received from Waban and Chestnut Hill, where local committees of interested Chamber members are assisting in the membership work and securing gratifying results. The membership work is being continued through the summer months and a substantial number added each week to the Chamber roster.

President Frank L. Richardson has appointed the following to serve as a committee on Insurance for the Chamber: Arthur W. Hollis and Clinton H. Scovell of Newton, Herbert M. Cole of West Newton, Sam T. Emery of Newton Centre and Herbert W. Colby of Newton Highlands. There are various matters in which it is believed a committee of this sort can be of service to the city and members of the Chamber. One of its first duties will probably be to take up with the New England Insurance Exchange readjustment of certain rates as applying to Newton. It is expected that the committee will meet and begin to function in the immediate future.

The Chamber committee on Street Railway Service, which includes Geo. J. Martin, chairman, George E. Stuart, Harry H. Hanson, Harry D. Cabot, and Albert M. Lyon, has held two interesting meetings and has several activities in the process of development, which promise in the aggregate to result in a considerable improvement to Street Railway Service in Newton. The matter of improving dangerous and undesirable conditions at several crossings in various sections of the city has been taken up with Mayor Childs and that at the junction of Commonwealth avenue and Chestnut street is already being improved and made as near perfect as possible through the laying of a new bituminous-macadam surface. Other crossings are to later receive the attention of the committee, which is also making an effort to find a way to arrange for the re-surfacing of that part of Walnut street between and adjacent to trolley tracks from Washington street to Commonwealth avenue. This is considered an unsafe condition which should be remedied as soon as possible. The committee is also considering plans to improve service through bringing about more co-operation between the Boston Elevated and the Middlesex & Boston management.

NORUMBEGA PARK

An elaborate display of fireworks, to be shown on next Wednesday night is one of the special features which the management of Norumbega Park is arranging, now that mid-season has arrived.

Few resorts offer a more diversified list of attractions than this park which is now in its 26th season. In addition to canoeing and launches on the river there is a zoo. Radio and band concerts, as well as Mazie Lunette's aerial slide, are presented free daily. There is twilight baseball each Friday night, popular dancing in the restaurant and many amusement devices along the midway.

Then there is the great, steel theatre with its 3000 seats. For the coming week Norumbega audiences will be assured of two more rollicking musical plays for Phil Ott and his company have been retained for a second week. They will present two shows, the program changing on Thursday. The company includes several people well known in burlesque and the chorus is worthy of mention. Special concerts are given in the theatre each Sunday.

How True!

Newspaper poet warbles, "Love is blind." Ah, how often that is the case!

PLAYGROUND NEWS

What is Taking Place on the Playgrounds in the Different Villages

Enough articles have been made by the little tots and boys and girls on the playground for a small exhibition, and are being made ready and will be placed in one window in the different villages. A number of beautiful hats and belts are attracting the attention of youngsters who have never been on the playground. The parents are urged to come and see for themselves what this work amounts to. Last week the athletic schedules of runs and dashes went off in a fairly successful manner. This week the boys are having a competition in jumping. Football has taken hold and is being played by the youngsters and in the evening by older people. A large evening attendance is being reported by a number of directors.

What used to be a swamp at Upper Falls is now eliminated and a good surface is being finished this week. This will give an extra diamond to the Upper Falls Playground. Mr. Holbrook is going to leave the Upper Falls Playground, where he practically had charge of the swimming place. Mr. Adams of Newton Centre will take his place and in addition act as assistant to Mr. Boyd.

Thompsonville Playground has received new tables and benches. This playground is being appreciated more and a large number of boys and girls are there every day. It is not generally known that the Thompsonville Playground is land owned by the Theological Institution. They have also placed their college diamond at the disposal of the playground during the summer. It is hard to realize what would happen to Thompsonville if the institution were to withdraw permission to use their land.

The Auburn-dale Playground having a bathing beach attracts great crowds of youngsters. It is not generally known that the swimming at this spot is particularly attractive. The playground offers a splendid place for picnics.

The Playground Institute was held at the Burr Playground last Saturday morning and proved to be a profitable meeting.

The shower baths at the Burr Playground are open to the public of that district. They are invited to see the director and find out what the time is for shower bath bathing.

The next Playground Institute will be held next Tuesday morning on the Newton Centre Playground and will be for the practice of football, schlag ball, track and field work and girls baseball.

On the Lower Falls Playground a stretch of land formerly used for war gardens is being restored. It is being plowed and harrowed now and will be seeded down in the fall.

The Playground Dept. again appeals for material and left over things and is ready to call for anything which the good people of Newton are willing to donate. Call up West Newton 103.

SPECIAL MEETING OF ALDERMEN

A special meeting of the Board of Aldermen was held at City Hall on Monday evening, July 24th.

In the absence of President Hollis and Vice-president Phipps, Alderman Whidden was chosen as temporary presiding officer, and all members of the Board were present with the exception of Aldermen Carter, Banfield, Saltonstall, Carter, Nichols, Phipps and Hollis.

Upon recommendation of His Honor the Mayor an order was adopted appropriating $1000 additional for completion of sewer in Wyman street, Waban.

Mr. Everett Kent, chairman of the School Committee with Mr. Leeds, architect employed to study the situation, explained to the Board the nature of changes proposed in the Bigelow School.

After discussion the Board voted an appropriation of $1500 for changing of lavatories in the Bigelow School. The Board adjourned at 9:05 P. M.

APPEAL FOR MATERIALS FOR PLAYGROUND USE

The Supervisor for Occupation Play wishes to make an appeal to the people of Newton for materials for occupation play as in former years.

We can use cardboard, wool, pieces of cloth, and other pieces left from the dressmaker's visit. We can also use straw matting which was left over when the new matting was laid on the floor and other materials useful to every child.

The Playground Department's telephone is West Newton 103, and we will be glad to send the truck to any body who will donate material.

Have YOU made a WILL?

To make a will is one thing; to provide for its proper execution is another. For the former, we recommend a competent lawyer; for the latter, we suggest that you appoint The Newton Trust Company executor of your will. This Company acts in all fiduciary capacities. It will bring to the management of your estate, whether large or small, broad experience, conscientious effort, and sympathetic interest. Come in and talk it over with one of our officers.

"I AM THE LAW"

Sizzling Action—Brother against brother! Blood worship turned to frenzied hatred! The fury of the northland's blinding snow gale! The honor of the mounted—the man—the woman—and retribution! Oh! Boy! What a Plot.

Lower Falls

Mrs. B. C. Fisher of River street is entertaining Mrs. Alfred McDaniels of Virginia.

Mrs. Harry Smith and daughter, Jeanette of Washington street are the guests of Mr. Smith's sister, at her home in the Adirondacks.

The demand for small stores, such as periodical stores, refreshment and cigar stores and for other general purposes, is being met in increasing numbers by the installation of Whittredge Fireproof Buildings on leased land. These buildings are doubly attractive because they are portable and can be removed in a few hours.

The indorsements they have received from the owners are as pleasing as the hundreds they have received this spring from the purchasers of their Whittredge Garage.

They report a healthy demand for their product with sales 100 per cent in excess of last year, which means that sales are four times what they were two years ago.

NOYES—MITCHELL

A pretty wedding took place at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Mitchell of Lynn on Wednesday, July 19, when their daughter Gwendolyn became the bride of Theodore M. Noyes of Newton Centre. The ceremony which took place at 12 o'clock noon in the presence of the immediate families was performed by Rev. Dr. Loring of the Newtonville Episcopal Church. Mr. and Mrs. Noyes left immediately after the ceremony for an extended trip to Maine and the White Mountains and upon their return will reside in Newton.

Both bride and groom are graduates of Boston University, and Mr. Noyes was a captain in the Infantry during the World War.

BAND CONCERT

The 101st Infantry Band will give a concert on Charles River Road, Watertown, next Wednesday evening from 6.45 to 8.45.

PROHIBITION NEWS

Contributed by and Published at the Request of the Newton W. C. T. U.

A SIGNIFICANT SILENCE

There could be no more complete refutation of the claims of certain labor leaders that organized labor as a whole is clamoring for the return of beer and wine than the silence on the subject that prevailed throughout the recent annual convention of the National Federation of Labor. The inference was plain—there was so large a dry element among the delegates present that the pro-beer leaders dared not permit the subject to be brought up for discussion and vote.

It is an insult to the members of the Federation to believe that in the face of the rapidly accumulating evidence of the benefits they have received from prohibition, they would vote to nullify the law. Had the will of the intelligent majority of the delegates to the convention ruled, we doubt not there would have been passed a resolution similar to that adopted by the National Women's Trade Union, which stood unequivocally for the Eighteenth Amendment through laws passed by Congress for that purpose.

FEDERATION OF WOMEN'S CLUBS FAVOR LAW ENFORCEMENT

By a unanimous vote of the large body of women in attendance upon the biennial convention of the National Federation of Women's Clubs, held recently at Chautauque, N. Y., a resolution was passed providing for assistance to be given in every way to measures enforcing legislation concerned with the Eighteenth Amendment.

WINE, AS A BEVERAGE, NOT NECESSARY IN FRANCE

One of our subscribers desires us to answer the question, asked by a friend, whether, because of the lack of pure water, there is absolute necessity for drinking wine while traveling through France.

Speaking from our own recent personal experience, we hasten to reassure our correspondent. The fairy tale of wine being necessary because of lack of water in southern Europe is without foundation. Not only is good, pure water to be secured at the hotels by the simple asking, but in many instances it will be provided to the American tourists without any suggestion on their part, so accustomed are the continental hotel people to the desire of Americans for the H₂O beverage. On the trains, bottled mineral waters can be purchased, and even in southern Italy the total abstainer has no difficulty in quenching his thirst with Nature's refreshing beverage.

AMERICAN LEGION OF NEBRASKA STANDS FOR ENFORCEMENT OF LIQUOR LAWS

Strict enforcement of the prohibition laws is favored in a resolution passed by the executive committee of the American Legion, department of Nebraska, in its recent meeting, according to press dispatches. The resolution calls on all the posts of the legion and upon the individual members, as well, to assist in stamping out in every possible way the crime wave and disrespect for the laws prohibiting liquor.

SPANISH WAR VETERANS FOR LAW ENFORCEMENT

The Henry W. Lawton Camp of Spanish War Veterans of Walla Walla, Washington, have by their recent action refuted the statement often made that the soldiers are for modification of the Volstead Law. Resolutions were passed in their June meeting, calling attention to the effort being made by certain elements of the population, "largely unnaturalized foreigners," to disregard and nullify the prohibition laws, and demanding that violators of these laws should be given adequate punishment, and that all loyal citizens should join in promoting law enforcement and observance.

REDLANDS POST OF THE AMERICAN LEGION FOR WRIGHT LAW

Instead of the favorite fiction that prohibition would never have been adopted had the American soldiers been at home, should be spread far and wide the favorable fact that many of their leaders, as well as the "dough-boys" themselves, are among the strongest advocates of prohibition in the country. One of the proofs for this is found in the news that the American Legion post of Redlands, Calif., has by unanimous vote endorsed the Wright enforcement act.

As the "Redland Facts" says: "Redlands post is to be congratulated by every organization and by every individual in the state who stands for law and order."

SIR ARTHUR CONAN DOYLE TO WORK FOR PROHIBITION IN ENGLAND

Sir Arthur Conan Doyle, on the eve of his departure for England, according to press dispatches, declared himself a convert to prohibition. He also said he would work to bring prohibition to his homeland, although he would have to forego public speeches on the topic because of his psychic investigations.

"There is little drinking here today compared with what there used to be," he stated in regard to conditions in the United States. "Today, if you want liquor, you have to go and find it. Formerly it came looking for you."

ANNUAL FIELD DAY

The annual Field Day of Court Field D'Italia, No. 268, Foresters of America, will be held tomorrow (Saturday) from 2 to 12 on Nonantum Playground, Hawthorne street, near Adams street, Newton. The day's sports will include boxing bouts, potato races, sack races, etc. There will be dancing from 8 to 12 in the evening, the music to be furnished by Hanlon's Orchestra of six pieces. There will be a large and gorgeous display of fireworks. The admission is free.

CHIVALRY AND GOOD SENSE

New York Legislator Would Do Away With Embarrassing Question as to Voters' Age.

"What is your age?"

In days of old the question was perfunctorily asked and answered in every voting booth. In the new days of equal suffrage it is still asked, but apologetically rather than perfunctorily, and it is sometimes answered resentfully. Occasionally a lady voter, especially one who has attained the dignity of middle age, considers the question impertinent. Yet one hates to commit perjury or anything that smacks of perjury.

In New York state, says the Cleveland Plain Dealer, a gallant gentleman, who should have flourished in the days of knighthood, has introduced into the legislature of which he is a member a bill to do away with the age question. If this measure becomes a law it will be necessary for no one to tell her—or his—exact age. It will be quite sufficient for the elector to affirm that her—or his—twenty-first birthday has been passed.

This is chivalry, and it is also common sense. If one is of legal voting age the republic should require no more detailed information. We all wish the girls, young and old, to vote, and to vote without annoyance or resentment. Going to the polls should be made a pleasure. An important step will be taken if the New York law is enacted and copied.

"Are you twenty-one?" There is something positively delightful in such a question. And who would call it impertinent?

SPLENDID GIFT TO LIBRARY

Famous Rothschild Collection of Letters and Autographs Now Property of the French Nation.

The French national library has just been enriched by a great gift on the part of Baron Edmond de Rothschild, who has handed over to it the incomparable collection of historic autographs collected by his mother, Mme. James de Rothschild.

It is known all over the world as the most complete and valuable collection of letters and autographs of illustrious persons. The collection includes letters from most of the former kings and queens of France, including Philippe le Bel, Francois I, Henry IV, Marguerite de Valois, Catherine and Marie de Medici, and Marie Antoinette.

There are also letters from eminent public men like Sully and Colbert, leading soldiers such as Gaston de Foix, Conde, Turenne, and Marshal Saxe, to say nothing of artists, poets, and writers like Villon, Corneille, Racine, and Mme. de Sevigne.

"Shimmy" Machine on Ships. Contrasted with "starving Europe," millions of Americans are struggling with too much fat, Glenn M. Farley writes in the Seattle Post-Intelligencer. The shipping board was forced to put in "shimmy" machines on its transatlantic liners for the accommodation of the over-fat patrons. A substantial belt connected with a vibrator gives the patient all the effect of a violent "shimmy." The belt shakes its victim like a plate of jelly, and bay windows disappear like magic. One man lost 68 pounds on the round trip from New York to Bremen.

Americans kick about the high cost of living, and yet buy and consume more food than they require, to the extent that machines must be invented to work off the surplus fat. It may occur to some of them yet that the most economical and efficient way would be to buy and consume less food, and dispense with the shimmy machine.

Not Dumb.

The Woman was calling on an acquaintance the other day. "I'll tell mamma you're here," announced small daughter who opened the door at her ring. This errand over, she came into the living room, climbed up on a huge plush chair, straightened her little dress over her knees, and looked at the Woman inquiringly. The Woman, not being an adept at conversing on dolls and teddy bears, remained silent, and busied herself with reading a book of verse which lay on the table. Still no signs of life from the mysterious regions upstairs. The little tot cleared her throat inquiringly, but still neither spoke. Finally the child mustered up her courage, and said, "Well, why don't you say something? I can talk!"—Chicago Journal.

Gardener's Novel Theory.

Gardeners are often men of strongly individual opinions, as not a few employers have discovered. But for a curious opinion, held most sincerely, commend us to a gardener working near to a celebrated aerodrome. "It ain't the drought that has kept back the flowers and the fruit," says this theorist. "'Tis them gases what come from the flying machines! They poison the air and ruin the gardens."

The gardener is quite convinced as to this cause of backwardness, so it is no use arguing with him.—London Chronicle.

To Look for Oil in Bolivia.

A Pera (Brazil) newspaper has announced the arrival in that city of Swedish and German geologists who have been exploring petroleum lands in the department of La Paz, Bolivia. It is stated that the existence of petroleum in that locality is undoubted, but that extraction will not begin for several years, owing to the difficult nature of the country.

OBJECTED TO BEING BROILED

Lobster's Emphatic Views on the Subject Led to Change of Menu in Household.

A friend of mine is very fond of lobster, but, like many men, has no idea how such food is prepared. His wife had occasion to be absent from home one day last week and she told the servant girl to broil a lobster for my friend's dinner. She left a note, telling her husband of the treat she had provided for him and requesting him not to wait dinner for her. He was quite hungry when he reached home and, after reading the note, said to the servant:
"Is that lobster ready?"
"No, sir, it isn't," said the girl.
"Well, hurry up with it. I'm as hungry as a bear," said he.
"I can't, sir," said the girl. "The mistress said to broil the lobster, and I got him on the gridiron, after a deal of a fuss. The more I poked the fire the more he walked off, and I thought the baste was haunted and no good would come from cooking a straddle bug like that."
"What did you do with it?" said my friend, getting mad.
"Faith, the last I saw of him he was going out the back door with his tail up, like the maniac he was."
He had sardines for dinner.—Judge.

MR. JONES WALKED RIGHT BY

Little Incident May Have Cured Him of Habit of Loafing in That Grocery Store.

Mr. Jones (which is not his true name) enjoys, above all else, an opportunity to loaf at the corner grocery. Just to sit on the counter and think and talk while his wife is hard at work at home and the grocer and his clerk are hard at work in the store is to Jones a privilege well worth while.
But Mrs. Jones and the grocer thought differently. In fact the grocer disapproves emphatically of any person just sitting when he should be working. One morning the grocer conceived a brilliant idea. Just as Mr. Jones was about to leap lightly to his seat on the counter the grocer slyly placed a sheet of fly paper, black with flies, on the spot where Mr. Jones was to land.
Mr. Jones did not discover the fly paper until he politely slid from the counter in order to greet with his best bow a neighbor woman. It is said he left the store thereon with such speed that the wind detached the fly paper from its place on the seat of his trousers. When next seen Jones wore his Sunday best and he walked right by the grocery store.—Indianapolis News.

Up to Date.

The great detective scowled thoughtfully. "Jack and Jill," he read from the report before him, "went up the hill to draw a pail of water. Jack fell down and broke his crown and Jill came tumbling after."
"Humph," said the master mind. "That seems to be simple enough. A plain case. These two joyriders found their radiator getting hot while speeding in a mountainous section. They tried to make a tough grade on low, but it was too much. Then the brakes refused to work. The man got panicky and stumbled out of the car on his home. The bus kept on going down the slope and took the dame along with it. Both of 'em carried accident policies and the car was probably insured, too. I advise both companies to suspend payment till the driver can prove he wasn't under the influence."—Life.

Fishermen Netted Submarine.

Some fishermen out in their boats near Hyeres made a catch that nearly ended one boat load, reports the London Times correspondent at Paris. They caught a submarine in one of their nets. The boat to which the net was attached was in danger of being drawn under the water by an unseen and unknown monster, and, though frantic efforts were made to free the boat by cutting the net away, it might have gone badly with the crew if the commander of the submarine, wondering what he had run into, had not brought his vessel to the surface. The boat was almost completely swamped by the sudden rise of the submarine, which had to rescue the crew and tow the boat into port.

Had a Right to Laugh.

Three years ago, when sleighing was good, I went to town with my brother in a dilapidated sleigh. We met another brother, who lived near us, and I told him that I would go home with him, as he had a good sleigh and I wanted to make sure of getting there. We had gone only a short distance when in ascending a hill the sleigh broke down, letting us fall backward. A team hitched to a bob-sled close behind nearly stepped on us. The man in the sled brought me home. My brother arrived home later without accident. Did he laugh at me? I guess so.—Chicago Journal.

Room for Improvement.

The newly elected president of a banking institution was being introduced to the employees. He singled out one of the men in the cashier's cage, questioning him in detail about his work, etc.

"I have been here forty years," said the cashier's assistant, with conscious pride, "and in all that time I only made one slight mistake."
"Good," replied the president. "Let me congratulate you. But hereafter be more careful."—Wall Street Journal.

THE FATHER OF WATERS

COUNTING the longest branch as a part of it, the Mississippi is the longest river in the world. Hermando de Soto lake and not Lake Itasca, as commonly supposed, is now considered by some authorities as its place of beginning.

There is a difference of 1,470 feet between the elevations of its mouth and of its head and during its journey from Minnesota to the Gulf of Mexico the temperature depending upon the season, sometimes varies as much as 150 degrees.

Its waters wash the soils of ten states. In the vicinity of Red river, Louisiana, the volume of its flow is estimated to exceed 12,000,000 gallons per second.

The Wisconsin, Des Moines, Illinois, Missouri, Ohio, White, Arkansas and Red river systems, as well as a large number of "lesser lights" with their myriads of tributaries, flow into it. These rivers carry drainage from 28 of the 48 states. This tremendous watershed has an area of 1,240,000 square miles or 41% of the entire United States.

The Mississippi is navigable for almost its entire length or from St. Paul to the Gulf.

Large numbers of passengers are transported between local points and tremendous quantities of freight—principally grain, cotton, live stock, coal, lumber, logs, provisions, stone, gravel and sand are carried upon its surface. The river freight at the port of New Orleans, during a recent year, approximated 1,000,000,000 tons.

THE SHOSHONE DAM

AMONG the great irrigation dams erected under the supervision of the reclamation service of the Department of the Interior, the Shoshone has a distinct individuality. It is located nine miles west of Cody, Wyoming, on the road to Yellowstone park.

If you can conceive of a triangular-shaped wedge of concrete 325 feet high, 200 feet wide at the top, 108 feet thick at the base, tapering to 10 feet at the crest, placed between two mountains so as to close the canyon of a river, you can gain some idea of this mastodontic structure.

Now, imagine a lake of stored-up water, 10 miles long, with a maximum width of four miles and a maximum depth of 233 feet behind this dam; then, in front of it a spill-way bearing a strong resemblance to a section of Niagara falls, and stretching away in the distance hundreds of thousands of acres of land covered with an abundance of crops, peopled with happy inhabitants and here and there a bustling village. There you have a picture of Uncle Sam's great irrigation projects.

Remember that before the water was brought to this thirsting land, sage brush and prairie dogs were among the principal crops, then—presto "The desert blossomed as the rose," and you'll understand why your government expended $1,354,000 on the dam alone.

JETTIES OF MISSISSIPPI

ALTHOUGH the "Father of Waters" has several mouths, none of them provided a satisfactory channel for the never-ending procession of steamers which carry millions of tons of commerce (one item of which, during a recent year, was 15,728,144 bunches of bananas) from the ports of the world to and from the port of New Orleans.

The western-most one of these mouths is known as Southwest pass. It is about 15 miles long, of irregular width, had a tidal variation of from 16 to 28 inches, was influenced by floods and obstructed by a submerged sand-bar over which the water was only nine feet deep.

Notwithstanding these handicaps, army engineers considered it the best route and set about to force the river to run as they thought it should. They planned to dig and build a channel 1,000 feet wide and 35-feet deep through this pass, so that the biggest ships could steam right up the river and anchor off New Orleans.

They dredged the head of the pass for 3 1/4 miles to give it the necessary width, closed a number of outlets to conserve the flow, built "sills" to prevent the outlets to the river above the mouth from enlarging; dredged away the sand-bar (removing the equivalent of 35,000,000 wagon loads of sand and mud), constructed jetties more than 20,000 feet long to protect this dredged channel and built spur dikes as necessary.

Southwest pass now satisfactorily performs the work which falls to the lot of the official mouth of America's greatest river.

—Mr. and Mrs. Ralph H. Somers have returned from a motor trip to Augusta, Maine, and are now at Monument Beach for a two weeks' vacation.

—A serious accident was narrowly averted about 11 o'clock Tuesday night when a touring car came careening down the hill on Crafts street, near North street, and crashed into a street railway pole. The car was proceeding in the direction of Waltham at a high rate of speed and at a point halfway between California and North streets the driver evidently lost control for he swerved into a tree, just skimming the bark from it, and then bounced ahead into the pole, snapping it off at the base, and moving it ten feet. The crash could be heard a half mile away. Before any one had reached the scene of the accident the automobile had continued on its way. The police were unable to obtain any information in regard to those who had such a narrow escape.

OUR GREATEST ZOO

FANCY a beautiful 264-acre park with lakes and a waterfall. People it with about 3,400 animals, representing 980 different families. Set it down eleven miles north of New York city's city hall and—presto, you have a zoological park which outstrips all similar institutions.

The occupants of this animal world range in size from a four-ton elephant down to a pigmy field mouse weighing probably less than an ounce. The oldest inmate, a giant tortoise, tilts the beam at 225 pounds and is believed to be 200 years old. Give me a word with the stork and I'll tell you the age of the youngest member and to which family it belongs.

A giant anteater is probably the most peculiar animal and the 22-foot-long royal python, weighing 170 pounds, the most unwelcome from the public's standpoint. The bears make a strong play for popular approval, but the apes are past grand masters in attracting attention to their "monkey" shines. The woodchuck seems always to be "in the dumps," while the jolly little prairie dogs appear to be happy always. The sloth is the slowest-moving animal, while "Baldy," the big chimpanzee, leads when it comes to quickness of intellect and ability to receive training.

The most discordant chorus greets one in the large bird house, where the commingled shrieks and squawks vary from that of the macaw which can be heard a mile to the lower utterances of the less noisy fowls—but, for a mixture of queer sounds, just step into the insect house.

CZAR OF SMOKESTACK WORLD

THERE are some smokestacks that are unbelievably big—too big to be true—but the one recently completed for the reduction works of the Anaconda Copper Mining company at Anaconda, Montana, sets up a new world record.

The concrete base on which this gigantic structure stands required 118 cars of crushed rock, 50 cars of sand and 20,800 sacks of cement to complete and weighs approximately 9,250 tons.

The stack proper is constructed of specially shaped blocks or bricks about two and one-half times the size of the ordinary brick and it took 2,464,672 of these larger units to complete the job.

To make the mortar necessary to lay these brick required 77 cars of sand, 37 cars of fire clay and 41,350 sacks of cement. The estimated weight of the brick work is 28,810 tons.

The exterior diameter of this smoke-and-gas elevator is 86 feet at the base, while the interior diameter at the top tapers down to 60 feet. The wall is 22 inches thick at the top. The maximum height of the stack and its base is 585 feet 1 1/2 inches.

Smokestacks of extreme size are desirable and in fact necessary, in connection with certain classes of mining operations, to prevent the destruction of vegetation by the extensive quantities of strong and poisonous fumes and gases which result from the reducing operations.

THE KING OF THE CLOCK WORLD

AMERICA'S largest timepiece looks down upon the world from the giant tower of Colgate & Company's factory in Jersey City, N. J.

The massive hands are constructed of brass, in truss formation and covered with sheet copper. The minute hand is 20 feet long and 10 inches wide at the point. It weighs 370 pounds. The point moves half a minute at a jump and travels more than half a mile in its 24 marathons around the dial daily. The dial is over 40 feet in diameter and illuminated at night—42 electric bulbs being used on the minute hand alone. The numbers on the dial are 5 1/2 feet high. The pendulum rod is eight feet long, weighs 76 pounds, made of zinc and steel so proportioned as to permit of accurate compensation and adjustment to overcome sudden and decided changes of temperature. The bob weighs 330 pounds. The weights which propel the hands weigh 1,500 pounds and provide ample power to offset all wind resistance.

This master clock is said to be the most mechanically correct tower clock ever constructed. It runs eight days without rewinding. Built at Thomaston, Connecticut, and installed in 1908, it has operated the year round with an average variation of less than one minute a week.

In the death of Mr. Clarence L. Tower, Auburndale loses one of her most valued sons. His widow, his three little sons, his mother, his sisters all have the deepest sympathy of the entire community.

J. LEE ROBINSON

J. Lee Robinson, for many years editor and publisher of the Cambridge Tribune and long a prominent figure in that city, died Sunday, aged 42 years.

Mr. Robinson was the son of Mr. and Mrs. James H. Robinson, of Wilmington, but was born in Cambridge, Sept. 2, 1879. He graduated from the Cambridge High School at the age of 17 years, entered the newspaper field as a reporter of Cambridge news for various Boston papers, besides having connections with the Cambridge Chronicle.

About 21 years ago he purchased the Cambridge Tribune, a weekly, of which he has been editor and owner ever since. He was vice-president of the Harvard Square Business Men's Association, auditor of the Massachusetts Press Association, and a member of the Colonial Club, The Cambridge Board of Trade, the Cambridge Historical Society, the Appalachian Mountain Club and the National Editorial Association.

He is survived by his wife, Elizabeth H., daughter of Mrs. Sarah J. Hoff, of 31 Newell road, Auburndale, his parents, and by two sisters, Mrs. Oscar Lundgren, of Wilmington, and Miss Elizabeth G. Robinson, of Machias, Maine.

Funeral services, which were private, were held on Wednesday afternoon and burial was in the Cambridge Cemetery.

MADE OLD GENTLEMAN SMILE

Youthful Bride Hadn't Thought That Other People Might Also Be on Their Honeymoon.

It was the first day out. The ocean liner was cutting smoothly through the waves, with Europe as its destination. Being a bright, balmy afternoon, with an invigorating air circling about the decks, many of the passengers lounged in the comfortably blanketed chairs.

The upper deck totaled about fifty-two people. Among them were the usual jokers, and queens and Jacks and Harries, and so on down the list.

One old couple—they looked to be about fifty-five—attracted a good share of the attention. Everybody usually surveys everybody else the first day, in order to determine if they are being followed or if an acquaintance happens to be abroad.

A particular young man and a pretty young woman watched the old couple with fixed gaze. The matured pair were very assiduous for their age. When the old lady dropped her magazine the young man picked it up for her. The result was that the quartet entered into a conversation.

"I just remarked to my husband how attentive you are to each other," spoke the young wife sweetly. "I wonder if we'll be as happy as you are after we've been married so long? We were just married yesterday."

The old gentleman wrinkled his nose all up and smiled.

"So were we," he replied—Herbert Hoose, in Judge.

COCONUTS HIS ONLY FOOD

Austrian Exile Had Radical Views on the Subject of Proper Sustenance for Mankind.

In the near neighborhood of New Guinea is a beautiful island called Kabaka, which was owned by an Austrian named Engelhardt, exiled for some political offense, who died not long ago.

Engelhardt was known as the "apostle of the coconut." Having acquired the island by purchase many years ago, he planted every possible acre of it with coconut palms, the fruit of which he believed to be the only proper food for man. He subsisted exclusively on coconuts, and his only drink, except water, was coconut milk. But, although a crank on this subject, he did not force his ideas upon others. He gave admirable dinners, at which the food was varied and the wines excellent.

Engelhardt was a man of profound learning, and his coconut plantation yielded him a large income. People invited to stay at his house were luxuriously lodged; but he himself always slept on a bed of clean sand, which was spread freshly every day. —Philadelphia Ledger.

Tip and Be Happy.

Katherine Wood believes in tipping judiciously as a step along the path of least resistance. In the Designer she writes:

"You like to travel, or else you dislike to travel. Putting out of the question love of excitement, the adventurous spirit, the zest for new scenes, all of which enter in, the reason for your taste or distaste may really lie in your attitude toward some of what you may have called inconsequential details.

"Do you know how to relinquish your heavy suitcase, your hat box, your coat and umbrella and that bulky bundle to a red-cap? Whether you have a chair or not, the porter will take you the shortest and easiest way to your train, and you'll avoid all that craning and straining to see where your train starts. He'll find you a seat in a day coach and dispose of your parcels for you, so that you neither have to wrench your arm out or rely on the civility of a chance fellow passerby. Yes, he expects a tip, but a quarter is little enough to pay for having the brambles pulled out of your path."

Soap Bubble Ballet.

Beautiful scenes are common in the motion picture studios, and many mechanical effects are produced which fairly dazzle the eye of the onlooker. As a climax to an unusually gorgeous "set," a director recently called for a dance in the midst of soap bubbles. Accordingly, since a space 20 by 20 feet had been designated to be filled with the frothy substance, a metal sieve of this size was fitted in the floor. A soap solution, made with 200 barrels of the product and mixed in the same manner as plasterers prepare lime, was piped to the porous floor, and steam forced through it. The immediate transition into bubbles began, and these soon rose to a huge scintillating mass, in which the dancers performed, the whole presenting, according to illustration and description in Popular Mechanics Magazine, a scene of fairylike splendor.

Traveling Telephones.

It is reported that in India the British military authorities employ a form of movable telephone, which can be used with great facility in the field. The cable weighs only seven pounds per mile, but it is so well insulated that it can be stretched across a stream of water without loss of current. It withstands a strain of 120 pounds. An apparatus for placing and removing the cable, working automatically and capable of being attached to a saddle, is employed. Recently in the Punjab a horseman, proceeding at a gallop, placed the cable over a distance of two miles in seven minutes. To remove it eighteen minutes were required.

It Pays to Advertise

Brickbats Never Made a Bouquet

How many times, Mr. and Mrs. Reader, have you said a kind word to the editor? How often have you stopped him on the street to commend him for an editorial or dropped him a note giving him your support in some fight he was making for the public good?

An editor doesn't seek any words of thanks. Probably if you did stop him and showered some kind words in his ear he would be as embarrassed as a 10-year-old schoolboy speaking his first piece. But at any rate it will sound good to him when he has time to think it over.

Instead of words of praise, here is what you generally hear: "Why, that paper isn't worth half the price. It never has any news in it and what it does have is mostly all wrong."

Yet when that person wants to advertise a cake sale or a dance he or she sends the items to this same newspaper.

Then you hear that the editor is a crank, that he is biased and doesn't present news fairly, that he doesn't know how to run a paper, and so on and so on.

You have all heard these remarks or similar ones, but are they fair?

An editor, in the first place, is only a human being. He is dealing with human beings and it's sound logic that you can't please all the people all the time. At some time or another he has to print some news that is going to offend someone and make an enemy. The editor can't help that. People who get into trouble never think about the newspaper until they want their names kept out. Then they get mad at the editor because he prints the news.

It is true that an editor makes mistakes, and no one regrets more than he slips of the type, but, again, he is human, and so is every man and woman who works for him.

Did you ever stop to think how many characters there are in a column of type? Well, there are thousands, and that means there are thousands of opportunities to make errors. And newspapers are generally printed amid great rush and confusion. A big story breaks. The facts must be learned and put into type. The mail must be caught. Everything is rush, rush, rush. And yet if a few types get tangled up the paper is criticized.

Take it right home to yourself. Can you sit down and write a letter—even a short one—without sometimes getting a word wrongly placed or misspelled? Be honest, be charitable and overlook a few mistakes when you see them in your home town paper.

No man tries harder to avoid mistakes than the editor. It's common sense that he would much prefer to have a perfect paper and avoid mistakes.

The editor is a pretty good human being. He is always ready to back any movement for the uplift of his community. If you want to start anything right in your home town and get it across to the people you go right up to the editor's door and ask him to help you out. And he never refuses if it is for a good cause. The editor does more and gives away more real dollars in free space than any merchant in town.

You can always count on your editor. In fact, you do count upon him. And what would this town be without him and his newspaper? Have you ever thought of that? What would the world be without newspapers? It would be like going back to the dark ages. Business couldn't function, and everything would be tied up in knots if it weren't for the newspapers. They spread the ray of light that shows the way to progress. Just think if you had to travel all around town to get the news of your neighbor, your village board, about crops and the market. Well, you couldn't do it. Yet the editor does this for you—he is the connecting link between you and the great news centers of the world and the news of your home town. This news he gathers faithfully and as accurately as is humanly possible, puts it on white paper and it is delivered to your home every morning or evening, or every week, as the case may be, for a penny or two a copy. That penny or two often doesn't pay the cost of white paper. A newspaper is the biggest bargain that is offered to the public today, and it has been so for years.

The next time you meet the editor—well, just remember he is a human being just like you are and that the Golden Rule works both ways.

THIS TIRE IS LIKE YOUR WEDDING RING—

as good as gold. Yes, we mean it, and we stand back of every inch of it. Run this tire over the hardest roughest, rockiest roads, run it for hundreds of miles—then compare the tread and the wearing quality with that of other tires at the same price or higher. You will agree with us that the Kelly-Springfield or Madison is a mighty good tire for your car.
